SURGICAL OPERATION ENDS THE PRESIDENT'S JOURNEY

Knife Required to Remove an Abscess Caused by a Bruise Received in the Pittsfield Trolley Accident.

GREAT SPEECH DELIVERED BEFORE SCHEDULED TIME

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt's tour to the northwest, which started so auspiciously, came to a sudden and unexpected end today. The cancellation of all the president's engagements for the next two weeks was due to the development of an abscess, the result of the Pittsfield accident.

This abscess is on the left leg between the ankle and knee, and it developed so rapidly that the physician in attendance on the president, Dr. Lung of the navy, declared that the injury would not heal until an operation had been performed and the president would have to undergo a complete rest. In consequence, immediately after the ceremony here today the president was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where the abscess was opened and bandaged, and tonight the president is on his way to Washington.

The determination of the president to abandon his trip was arrived at only after careful consideration. He was reluctant to disappoint the citizens of the west, who have made elaborate preparations to entertain him.

Suffered in Two Cities.

The wound began to trouble him several days ago. It was noticed that in Cincinnati on Saturday and on Sunday in Detroit the president laid down several times each day. No significance was attached to this at the time; but the president was resting his injured limb.

Yesterday in Detroit the president was continuously on his feet for five hours. This made the wound so much worse that when Dr. Lung examined it this morning he told the president he must submit to an operation at once and return to Washington, where he could have absolute rest.

The wound was rather painful, but notwithstanding this Mr. Roosevelt began his day's work bright and early and on schedule time. His first stop was at Logansport, Ind. There he had a big crowd waiting for him in the rain, and the president created a sensation by making a speech devoted entirely to the tariff. He advocated the appointment of a nonpartisan commission to revise the tariff, which must be taken out of politics and treated entirely as a business proposition.

In this speech the president set at rest the stories that he was about to promise the western people an extra session of congress to revise the tariff. He is not in favor of any tariff revision unless it can be conducted without unsettling business.

Was Scheduled for Milwaukee.

This speech, which, undoubtedly will attract as much attention as his best speeches in New England and at Cincinnati, was to have been made at Milwaukee. The president felt that it ought to be made at once, and, therefore, as his tour was to terminate, he made it at Logansport.

The president spoke with great vigor and earnestness, and no one who heard him suspected that he was suffering physical pain. Inquiry was made of members of the president's suite as to why he had made his tariff speech ahead of schedule time. No explanation was forthcoming, and it was said that a statement would be made late in the afternoon.

As a matter of fact it had been decided to let no hint of the president's condition become public until after the closing of the stock market.

The president went through the program until after the reception at Indianapolis with a smiling face. He left the train at Kokomo, Jipton and Noblesville and walked to stands erected beside the track. Here he spoke at length and was warmly greeted.

At Indianapolis he and his party were driven through crowded streets to Tomlinson hall, where the Spanish-American war veterans were in session. Gov. Durbin and Mayor Bookwalter welcomed the president and Senator Beveridge introduced him. There the president spoke for 40 minutes with fluency and earnestness, never flinching because of his throbbing leg. Not a twitch of pain crossed his face and still no one suspected the trouble.

Cortelyou Makes Arrangements.

From the hall to the Columbia club the party was next driven. Here the president met Secretary of War Root and they retired for consultation. There was a short delay, and during this time Secretary Cortelyou made the arrangements at the hospital.

In the meantime 20,000 persons gathered in the governor's circle and about the soldiers' monument to hear an address from the president. When luncheon was about half over the president left the table and went out on the balcony. The crowd cheered him again and again and the president spoke happily for 10 minutes. Then he returned to the table and finished luncheon. It was announced that the members of the party should return to the special train and the president would follow later.

The president left the club, accompanied by Dr. Lung and Secretary Cortelyou. Secretary of War Root, Dr. Robinson and Assistant Secretaries Loeb and Barnes followed in other carriages. Simultaneously a statement was given out announcing the abandonment of the tour here. The statement, concluded in medical terms, said:

"As a result of the traumatism (bruise) received in the trolley accident at Pittsfield, Mass., there was found to be a circumscribed collection of perfectly pure serum in the middle third of the left anterior tibial region, the sac containing about two ounces, which was removed. The indications are that the president should make speedy recovery. It is absolutely imperative, however, that he should remain quiet and refrain from using the leg. The trouble is not serious, but temporarily disabling."

Startling Rumors Circulate.

The first intimation that anything was wrong came in the form of rumors to the crowd which was patiently waiting near the Columbia club and the soldiers' and sailors' monument, for the president to appear. It was about 2:30 o'clock, half an hour after time set for the president to leave the club, that the crowd received intimations that the president was sick and that the rest of the trip probably would be abandoned. These statement were as promptly denied, as fast as they gained currency, but soon the rumor began to take on a more serious character.

"The president has burst a blood vessel," was a whisper that went around among the police officers and soldiers.

"This cannot be true," said others, "for the president is in the corridor conversing with Senator Fairbanks."

Then it was said that the president was sick, that he had fainted and finally a rumor was started that he had been shot. These rumors, however, did not appear to reach the crowd and the thousands stood patiently after the speech by the president from the balcony, to see him make his way out of the club. The minutes began to slip away, and still he did not come. A half hour or more passed, and finally it was noticed that a movement of some kind was on.

Path Cleared for the President.

The president's carriage stood in front of the entrance of the club, with Col. Wilson, the governor's private secretary, inside, holding the large bunch of American Beauty roses that had been given the president in the hall. The soldiers of the national guard were drawn up along the street just in the rear. The secret service men and the local police and detectives crowded the sidewalk in front of the club, keeping back the people. The command was given to "make room" and a path was cleared from the club entrance to the carriage.

As if in answer to the rumors of his illness, the president, accompanied by Senator Fairbanks, with a quick and sturdy gait, came down the steps of the club and hastily entered the carriage. Col. Wilson got out, and Senator Fairbanks, Secretary Cortelyou and Gov. Durbin took seats in the carriage with the president. The carriage started immediately, the horses being urged into a trot.

The cavalcade proceeded between rows of banked-up humanity, held back from the street by ropes. A slight rain had begun to fall and this appeared to furnish the reason why the carriage containing the president should be entirely closed.

Crowds Kept at a Distance.

Amid the sound of many horses trotting upon the asphalt, and the rattling of the carriages, could be heard the cheers of the people who, though they could not see the chief executive of the nation, thought they were bidding him a good-by.

The crowd that had gathered at the east end of the railroad station wondered when the president's carriage went past without stopping, and in a few minutes the distance of several squares to the St. Vincent hospital was covered. Everything was done with dispatch, and the gathering crowds were kept at a distance.

The whole movement had been carefully planned at the Columbia club before it was carried out, and the utmost effort was made to keep any inkling of what was to occur from reaching the street. The necessary orders to the police and soldiers were not given until the last moment, and in this way the knowledge that something was amiss was confined to those who had an official interest in the president's movements.

The first public knowledge of the true state of affairs came in the form of a bulletin, which was issued by Secretary Cortelyou.

After the president entered the operating room he sat down and waited for instructions from the physicians and surgeons, watching their preparations with keen interest.

Wished to Continue His Trip.

"I am awfully sorry I cannot continue my western trip," said he. "Can't you let me go ahead with it after this thing is over?"

Several of the surgeons turned to him, and one said: "It is my opinion that you would be very indiscreet to continue on your feet, as would be necessary in your speech-making trip, after the operation. This is by no means a serious thing, and there is absolutely no danger of serious consequences from it, if you are careful and stay off your feet until the trouble is over; but you should by all means, Mr. President, discontinue your trip."

"Very well, then, it will have to be that way," said the president resignedly. "I will do as you gentlemen say. Now what do you want me to do?"

The president walked to the operating table and as he law down he remarked with a smile:

"Gentlemen, you are formal. I see you have your gloves on."

This was a reference to the antiseptic gloves of the surgeons.

"Mr. President," said a surgeon with a smile, "it is always in order to wear gloves at a president's reception."

This caused the president to exclaim: "Good, well said!"

The Operation Ended.

The operation was begun without delay. The pain caused the president to mutter several times in a low voice, but he said nothing that was distinct, except to ask for a glass of water before the needle had been removed. After the operation was over he made several laughing remarks concerning trivial matters and asked if he would be allowed to use his legs long enough to walk upstairs himself.

"You will be hauled upstairs in a wheeled ambulance," said a surgeon.

When they brought the vehicle in the president said: "Why that's a wheelbarrow."

After being taken to an upper room from the operating room the president was served with a light luncheon and chatted pleasantly to those in the room. He made several kind remarks to the attending nurses about the trouble he was causing, and shifted his position several times nervously.

The president desired to walk to the train, but his wish was sternly suppressed by the doctors. The Spanish war veterans under Col. Harrison, kept the crowd away from the street while the president was being transferred. The members of the president's party were shoved about

ODELL DECLINES TO GO ON TICKET WITH SHELDON

Governor and Platt at Loggerheads on Lieut. Governorship.

SHELDON FORCED TO QUIT THE RACE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The difficulty in the Republican convention over the candidacy of George R. Sheldon for the lieutenant governorship assumed such proportions this afternoon that Gov. Odell was summoned from Albany for consultation. Word comes that he left the state capitol for this place on a special train at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

It has developed that Gov. Odell today requested Mr. Sheldon to withdraw from the race for the nomination for second place on the ticket. The governor gave as a reason that he was of the opinion that Mr. Sheldon's candidacy would jeopardize the success of the whole ticket. The governor added that he had selected Mr. Sheldon for the place, and was his close personal friend, but had reached the conclusion that it was best Mr. Sheldon should retire. Mr. Sheldon consulted with Senator Platt, and, gaining the senator's support, informed the governor he could not comply with the request.

Platt Sticks to Sheldon.

Gov. Odell then sent to Senator Platt and asked him to use his influence to get Mr. Sheldon to retire. Mr. Platt announced that he would not make the request and that Mr. Sheldon was in to stay.

In the meantime the Kings county delegation, headed by Lieut. Gov. Woodruff, had hints of Gov. Odell's request and immediately resumed its attacks on Mr. Sheldon. Shortly after the adjournment of convention in the afternoon, Lieut. Gov. Woodruff made this statement:

"I have no personal animosity against Mr. Sheldon. I believe that the objections that have been raised to him are of the gravest sort, and that they jeopardize the state ticket. I have no personal ambition. I am not and will not be a candidate. I am interested in the success of the state ticket alone, irrespective of individuals.

"I am the unit voter for the largest county in the state next to New York county. We carried our primaries and have united the party. I believe that Kings county should have some say in nominating a ticket. We were promised this. Mr. Platt broke his word to us and named Mr. Sheldon without consultation. I believe he did it for the interests of the party, but he was mistaken.

Woodruff Has No Candidate.

I bow to no man in my allegiance to the party and its leaders, but I am not going to stand calmly by and see the party interests jeopardized. I have no candidate, but I believe there are up-state men who could fill the place acceptably and aid the ticket. I believe, also, that if an up-state man is nominated, Kings county can name the secretary of state, probably Mr. Dike, and all portions of the state will be represented on the ticket."

When shown the statement of Lieut. Gov. Woodruff, Senator Platt said:

"Perhaps we can give Mr. Woodruff a little lesson on politics, as well as in good manners. Why should the leader of any one delegation be offended because a man desires to be a candidate? Is Kings county to control situations? Mr. Sheldon is a candidate and is not withdrawn at all. Tell Mr. Woodruff that for me.

"Woodruff could have many things. He has had them. He has refused some lately, and it is ill-advised of him to seek to make trouble. His concern for the party is very touching, but there are others of larger experience who are equally interested and more capable of judging."

When the news of this trouble between the leaders became public in its entirety the previous apathetic condition of the

DEEP MYSTERY ABOUT A WOMAN IN THE RIVER

Thought to Have Come from Speakeasy Camp Near Ross' Grove.

SHOES BOUGHT IN CINCINNATI

Mystery surrounds the discovery of the body of an unknown white woman in the Allegheny river at the foot of Thirty-sixth street yesterday morning. Whether she was murdered, committed suicide or was drowned by accident puzzles the police. A trace of a woman answering her description obtained last night in the speakeasy camps near Ross' grove, about a mile and a half above the place where the woman was found.

Inmates of these drinking camps say a woman of her description came to the camps about two weeks ago and disappeared from there Saturday night. Two men from the camps will visit the morgue this morning and attempt to identify the woman as the one who disappeared Saturday.

Whoever the woman was, she was evidently accustomed to a better condition of life. It is not believed that she is a resident of this city, for the trade marks on her shoes show they were bought at the store of Smith, Kasson & Co., No. 42 West Fifth street, Cincinnati. They were only slightly worn. This was the only mark found on any of her garments. There were no marks found on her body to indicate that she had been foully dealt with.

There is a slight abrasion of the skin on the left cheek. She had dark hair, was about 30 years old and weighed about 150 pounds. She was a woman of good physique. Her clothing was common and indicated considerable wear.

Her teeth are in perfect condition and may lead to her identification. Two of her upper teeth are filled with gold and they had the appearance of having been well cared for. The woman who frequented the beer camps near Ross' Grove for two weeks, is described as having two of her upper teeth filled with gold. She attracted considerable attention among the characters of that place by always washing her face in the morning and after doing so she would clean her teeth by filling her mouth with water and rubbing her teeth with her fingers. This woman was not communicative and would not talk about herself. She was a heavy drinker and often became intoxicated. About the camp she was known as "Biddy."

The body was found by Capt. Daniel Lawrence of the sand boat Independence. During the day two men called at the morgue and attempted to identify the remains. They refused to disclose who they were. It is believed they only visited the morgue with a motive of curiosity.

An inquirer came from Kittanning last night to view the remains. He said a woman had disappeared from there about two weeks ago. He was discouraged from looking at the body last night, but will do so this morning.

FIGURES THAT SHOW RESULTS OF WAR ON VICE

STARTLING FACTS BROUGHT TO LIFE

First Attempt to Inform the Public of the Status of McAleese's Crusade.

YELLOW ROW WAS GIVEN A THOROUGH SCOURGING

Special reports for The Gazette were made yesterday by the inspectors of the Pittsburgh police districts to Supt. McAleese, giving a specific account of every arrest that has been made in connection with the crusade against vice. The figures reveal some astounding facts concerning the evil that has been rampant and the efficacy of the work of the police.

Since the beginning of the vice campaign in August 69 disorderly houses in the first police district have been raided and closed and 10 proprietors held for court, while the others were released after paying heavy fines. Two hundred and fifty-six visitors to the resorts were arrested and fined or sentenced to the workhouse. Over 150 street walkers were driven from the city and gambling houses, opium joints and speakeasies to the number of over 200 were driven out of the business.

This resume, made at the instance of The Gazette, is the first attempt to inform the public of the effect of the crusade. The reports show how the battle against wrongdoers has been prosecuted, and, by comparative statements, the result of the pressure of public sentiment and the aggressiveness of the press is made plain.

Reports Showed Surprises.

On Monday, Supt. McAleese was asked by The Gazette for figures showing the progress of the crusade. Reports from his subordinates at hand were not of sufficient detail to give a full resume of the police bureau's work. Supt. McAleese issued orders to the inspectors to render reports for The Gazette at once. Yesterday at noon their work was completed and voluminous envelopes were laid upon the police superintendent's desk. They contained many surprises for the head of the bureau—agreeable surprises, so Supt. McAleese said.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating," declared McAleese. "I am satisfied with these results. The crusade is making quite as good progress as I expected. I have been in this sort of work before and know how tedious it is and what we must contend against.

"I have been criticised for delay and in some quarters for unfairness, and even for working politics with this campaign on the city's evils, but I have been in public life long enough to know that it is not all malice that urges this criticism, and through The Gazette will offer here the proof of the pudding—the figures."

Work in the First District.

The report of Inspector Fred Will of the First district covers many pages of foolscap. The inspector's comment is that he has yet much to do, but declares that he has carried out his instructions in the most rigid manner and is satisfied with the returns. His bailiwick includes the downtown section of the city, where the most noted resorts exist. The houses between Fourth avenue and the Monongahela river, he says, are kept under close surveillance, and all outside of that limit will ultimately be raided and closed.

The first district crusade began in Second avenue between Try street and the approach to the Tenth Street bridge. In the notorious Yellow row the police found every tenant who conducted a disorderly house, and in various houses in the same neighborhood numerous foreigners were engaged in the same traffic. Some of the lowest dens in the city were found there and had the law not taken an immediate hand they would have grown to become a fine rendezvous for criminals of the most desperate character. At one place a bayloft was fenanted by disorderly persons.

Fourteen houses in this quarter were raided and each proprietor fined $50 and costs. A house near Yellow row on the bare hillside, without glass in the windows and with a roof full of holes, where the water poured in during every rain, was rented for $30 a month. Since being vacated it is likely to be abandoned. It is a probable result of the crusade that this notorious district will be depopulated, since respectable families, no matter if they were willing to accept the discomforts of the squalid surroundings, would be unable to pay the rent demanded.

Hill District Not Overlooked.

On the Hill district and on the outskirts of the proscribed section below Fourth avenue, 43 houses were closed. Of these seven were in Colwell street, four Coster avenue, three in Wylie avenue four in Tunnel street. Others were scattered. The proprietors were fined and warned against reopening.

When the special raids were ordered the same territory was subjected to another cleaning up. Sixty-nine disorderly houses were closed and 276 visitors ar-

TROOPS ARE SENT TO LEBANON TO QUELL STEEL WORKS RIOTS

Two Deaths Are Added to List of Strike Casualties and Another Regiment May Be Ordered Out.

LUZERNE COUNTY'S SHERIFF CALLS FOR THE SOLDIERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 24.—At 1:45 this morning Sheriff Jacobs sent a telegram to Gov. Stone for troops for Wilkesbarre and vicinity, he being unable to cope with the situation.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 24.—A telegram was received in Harrisburg early this morning from Sheriff Jacobs of Luzerne county asking Gov. Stone for troops. No action has been taken on the request and it is likely the governor will investigate the conditions as they exist in the vicinity of Wilkesbarre before sending troops.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—Gov. Stone issued an order this evening directing Gen. Gobin to send the first battalion of the Twelfth regiment to Lebanon to assist the sheriff to preserve the peace.

Troops will be kept at Lebanon until the sheriff can cope with the situation. Meanwhile, if there should be a serious outbreak at Shenandoah another regiment will be ordered on duty.

A delegation from Lebanon, headed by Sheriff Coppenhaver, called upon Gov. Stone this afternoon and asked that troops be sent there to prevent further rioting among the strikers at the American Iron and Steel works. The sheriff said there have been five riots in 24 hours and the city was absolutely in the hands of the mob.

After consulting with Adjt.-Gen. Stewart and Attorney General Elkin, Gov. Stone issued an order.

Interfered With Non-Union Men.

Five women and three men were arrested at Wiconisco today by Sheriff Reiff and deputies for interfering with non-union men at work in the Lykens valley colliery at Wiconisco and Lykens. The offenders were brought to Harrisburg and committed to jail.

A body of strikers visited the home of James Miller, a non-union man, living near Wiconisco, last night, took him from bed and beat him because he would not promise to keep away from the mines.

LEBANON, PA., Sept. 23.—This city has not yet recovered from the exciting events at the plant of the American Iron and Steel Company, which was due to the colored iron workers from the south taking the places of the striking workmen. Special and regular officers are guarding the plant and hundreds of men are about the mills.

The First battalion of the Twelfth regiment reported here tonight. Sheriff Coppenhaver says the soldiers are needed if the colored men remain at the plant.

Negroes to Be Sent Away.

A favorable sign that further trouble may be averted was a communication sent late this afternoon to Mayor Hess by Supt. Gilliner of the company, in which the latter said the negroes would be sent away tomorrow. The mayor at once dispatched officers to the scene to pacify the crowd and tell them the news.

Last night there was firing of pistols for hours in the vicinity of the works. The colored men, who had just arrived, were terrified, as were the citizens in the vicinity. About midnight William Hoffman, aged 17, was shot and he died in the hospital this morning. He was a messenger in the office of the steel company, and had attended an entertainment in the opera house. On his way home he was struck by a bullet.

Today a Lebanon citizen received a flesh wound in his arm from a bullet fired by an unknown person.

Tonight the strikers fired several volleys at the works. H. M. M. Richards, treasurer of the company, was wounded. He was standing in the puddling mill when a bullet crashed through a window and struck him in the side. President Sternburgh and Superintendent Cullaney were standing with Mr. Richards when the latter was shot. Later six men were placed under arrest by the troops. This had a salutary effect and the crowd soon dispersed.

Quieting Down at Scranton.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 23.—Whether it was the calling out of the Thirteenth regiment or that the turbulent element of the strikers had exhausted their violent energies, the day was comparatively free of lawlessness.

The only serious affair of the day occurred at Olyphant, about 400 yards from the camp of the soldiers, an hour after their arrival. Two brothers, Bert and Charles Lundon of Jefferson township, while on their way to work at the Temple company's Lackawanna colliery, were ambushed and shot down in the road. One of them, Bert, is probably fatally wounded. The other received only a flesh wound.

Two non-union foreigners employed at the Grassy Island washery, near the Olyphant station, were on their way to work this morning, and in passing the camp of the newly arrived regiment got into an altercation with a crowd of soldiers and were seriously drubbed. The affair was reported to Col. Watres by Detective Crippen of the Delaware & Hudson Company, and the offenders will be courtmartialed. The fact that soldiers had beaten non-union men spread throughout the region and served to win for the soldiers no end of friendship among the strikers.

Two Troopers Arrested.

Sergt. Michael Malta and Private Scott Bryden are the two soldiers accused of the assault. They were placed under arrest this evening by Col. Watres and put on a bread-and-water diet. They will be court-martialed tomorrow.

Squads are to be sent out tomorrow to bring in members of the regiment who failed to respond to last night's call. The morning report tomorrow, it is estimated, will show 200 absentees out of a total enlisment of 622.

A culvert on the Bloom division of the Lackawanna road near Lackawanna sta- tion was blown up by dynamite at 7:40 tonight. Considerable coal has been going over this road. The blown-up culvert is within 40 yards of the scene of last night's explosion, which destroyed a large section of steam pipe leading to the Pennsylvania Company's colliery.

Wajclack Mojewsky, a striker, was shot through the body just beneath the heart by a guard at the Raymond colliery in Archbald today. The physicians say he will die.

Gobin Visits New Camp.

Brig.-Gen. Gobin and a number of members of his staff ran up from Shenandoah and spent three hours of the afternoon conferring with Col. Watres and the other officers of the Thirteenth. It was decided to keep the companies of the regiment together in camp and send out detachments as occasion warranted, instead of stationing detachments permanently at different points.

Three companies under command of Capt. Umbeck this morning made a tour of the Pricebury district, in which some of yesterday's most serious disturbances occurred, but encountered no trouble. This afternoon Capt. Kambeck with one company was present at the hearing before Justice Slaviniski of Priceburg of District Superintendent Burkheiser of the Ontario & Western Company, who with Deputy Sheriff McAndrew were arrested for shooting Adam Taylor, one of the crowd of strikers with whom they exchanged shots at Priceburg last evening. There was a big crowd at the hearing, but no disturbance. Burkheiser was held in $1,000 bail for court. McAndrew would not risk going to Priceburg for a hearing and gave bail before Judge Edwards. Taylor died today.

More Troops May Be Needed.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 23.—If the lawless outbreaks in the Wyoming region continue Sheriff Jacobs will undoubtedly call upon Gov. Stone for troops.

This evening five carpenters employed at the Conyingham mine of the Delaware & Hudson Company were on their way home when they were held up by a crowd of men and boys. The carpenters discharged their revolvers in the air, which brought a large number of coal and iron police to their rescue. The officers fired a volley into the air and the crowd fled. A stray bullet from one of the deputies' guns struck a boy named James Roland, who was at work in the yard of the Sheldon axle works, some distance away. The bullet lodged in the lad's right shoulder. A deputy named Joseph Kessler was arrested charged with the shooting.

Unknown parties placed a number of sticks of dynamite under the house of Joseph Harrison at Plymouth, but a timely discovery prevented an explosion. Two non-union workmen at Plymouth were held up and beaten. Twenty-five deputy sheriffs went to Warrior Run to quell a disturbance there in which non-union men were attacked.

At Hughestown, near Pittston, a crowd of men derailed a train carrying a number of workmen to a washery. The engine and two cars left the track and two men sustained slight injuries.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Sept. 23.—Gen. Gobin has ordered the Governor's troops to go to New Philadelphia in the morning. The distance is about 12 miles, and the cavalry will leave Manila park in time to reach New Philadelphia at 6. The troops will remain in the vicinity of Silver Creek colliery of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company all day and return to camp tomorrow night. Many depredations have been committed in that locality during the past week.

PROTEST FROM ROUMANIA

Newspaper Opposes Foreign Interference With Reference to the Treatment of Jews.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—The Vossische Zeitung today prints the following special dispatch from Bucharest:

"The official Independance Roumaine after asserting that the new law contains no provision not already in the existing trade law, calls on the Roumanian press to make an energetic protest against foreign interference in a Roumanian trade law controversy."

The Vossische Zeitung remarks: "The matter cannot be disposed of so simply. Every other state can justly object to a foreign state mixing in its affairs; but Roumania cannot, since its independence was made by the Berlin treaty, dependent on a series of conditions, such as no discrimination between religions in determining the political, social and trade rights of citizens. Can the Roumanian officials seriously assert, in view of this provision, that no foreign state has the right to trouble itself about Roumanian internal affairs? The only question that could be raised is whether the United States, being a non-signatory, has the formal right to mix in the affairs of the Roumanian Jews. But Secretary Hay's note was not addressed to Roumania, but to the signatories of the Berlin treaty. We regard it as highly probable that the signatories will exchange views in order to reach common action."

EMINENT SCIENTIST DEAD.

Maj. Powell, Director of Ethnology at Smithsonian Institute, Passes Away.

HAVEN, ME., Sept. 23.—Maj. J. W. Powell, director of the bureau of ethnology at the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, died tonight at his summer home. He had been critically ill for some days.

Scientists in Washington placed Maj. Powell in the foremost rank of the geologists and anthropologists of the world. He had been identified with the scientific work of the government since the early 60s. His most notable work was his exploration of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. He was not only the first man who ever went through the canyon, but the only one who traveled its entire length.

His work as director of the government geographical and geological surveys in the Rocky mountain region was largely responsible for his selection for executive responsibilities later. He had been director of the bureau of American ethnology since he founded it in 1879, and also was director of the geological survey for more than a decade.

ENGINEERS URGE A PITTSBURGH PORT OF ENTRY

Want River Improvements to Make Isthmian Canal Key to New Markets.

SIBERT'S BRIDGE PLANS EXPLAINED.

City Engineer Objected to His Scheme for Raising Allegheny Bridges—They Stop Transfer of Library to Carnegie Institute.

Capt. William L. Sibert of the engineers corps, United States army, and Capt. John F. Dravo, secretary of the Pittsburgh coal exchange, made urgent pleas before the Engineers Society of Western Pennsylvania last night for river improvements which will make Pittsburgh a port of entry in the markets of the world. Both men spoke of the Isthmian canal as offering as much to Pittsburgh, and probably more, than any other industrial community of the world, if it will only arrange to meet it in working for a clear open waterway to tidewater, in the shape of improvements of the Ohio river.

Both urged the raising of bridges in the Allegheny river. Willis Whited, city engineer of Pittsburgh, in the discussion which followed declared that the big modern bridges on that river need not be raised, and that conditions may be met by using such low tows as are used in Chicago.

Compromise Is Urged.

Capt. Thomas Rees of James Rees & Sons Company, the Pittsburgh boat builders, contended that the screw wheel type of boats used at Chicago are not adaptable here. Others of the engineers suggested that the riverman and the government interests might compromise on the proposed limit of elevation by altering the upper architecture of the boats and not insisting on so radical changes in bridge elevation.

Capt. Sibert presented a series of blue prints showing what he regards necessary in bridge elevation. In this connection he said:

"The approaches to the raised bridges on the Allegheny city side involve changes in street grades on two streets only, Grant and Chestnut. The approaches to the Sixth, Seventh and Ninth street bridges remain as they are now. Such approaches on the Pittsburgh side involve changes in street grades at Sixteenth, Thirtieth and Forty-third streets only, eliminating grade crossings at Thirtieth and Forty-third streets. On the two ends of the raised Forty-third Street bridge, grade crossing of 13 railroad tracks, including two main line railroads, are converted into overhead crossings."

Condemns the Union Bridge.

Of the Union bridge he said that it should be condemned. Displaying the drawing, he said: "The Point bridge has the elevation that this bridge should have, and there seems to be no reason why the Pittsburgh approach to the Union bridge should not join the approach to the Point bridge, widening such approach if necessary."

Of the Sixth Street bridge he said that it is practicable to raise this bridge without changing the approach on the Allegheny city side. On the Pittsburgh side viaduct approaches of easy grade riverward of Duquesne way were shown to reach street grades at Fifth and Seventh streets, respectively.

Of the Seventh Street bridge he said: "The width of river between harbor lines between Ninth and Sixth streets is about 100 feet more than it is above and below. And it is practicable to make approaches to this bridge in the same manner as to the Sixth Street bridge, starting from Ninth and Sixth streets."

Must Partly Rebuild One Bridge.

Of plans for the Ninth Street bridge, Capt. Sibert said that the Allegheny approach remains the same as now, and the approach from the Pittsburgh side to start at Seventh street riverward of Duquesne way. To give the requisite width of spans it will be necessary to rebuild a portion of this bridge, he said.

"For the Eleventh street bridge of the Pennsylvania Company he proposed that by abandoning the lower track and lifting the channel span so that the lower track will have the same elevation as the upper track of the other spans, the interests of navigation would probably not be materially interfered with.

Referring to the Sixteenth street bridge he said: "The approaches to this bridge on both sides of the river involve making fills and viaducts in Sixteenth and Chestnut streets."

Of the Thirtieth street bridge over Herrs Island, he said that the necessary elevation conforms to plans desired by the railroad work planned on that island. On the Pittsburgh side he showed plans for a new elevated approach.

He showed a plan for raising the Pittsburgh Junction railroad bridge and improving the grade on the bridges over the main channel and back channel. This change involves the construction of about 2,600 feet of viaduct on the Allegheny city side, the grade on which will be less than the present grade on the bridge or on the northern approach to it. This, however, interferes with no other interest—is simply a matter of cost, he said.

Viaduct at Forty-Third Street.

Of plans for raising the Forty-third street bridge, he said they involve viaduct approaches on Forty-third street, Pittsburgh side, and in Millvale borough. This plan carries the traffic over the traffic over the Pittsburgh Junction, Pittsburgh & Western, West Penn and traction company tracks, as shown. He declared that this would be a boon to the traveling public and to the railroads.

In the course of his address, Capt. Sibert said:

"By means of hydraulic dredges, a least depth of 9 feet at low water has been made practicable in the Mississippi river from Cairo to the gulf. If a similar depth was made in the Ohio, from Pittsburgh to Cairo, by the time the Isthmian canal is completed Pittsburgh would then be in position to place her products at tidewater at a cost of less than 65 cents per ton. What other city with equal natural advantages can compete with it?

"The possibilities of water transportation from Pittsburgh south have been demonstrated—720,000 tons of freight in two days is the maximum record."

The speaker urged river improvements to encourage transfer and car-ferry traffic in the river as a safety valve against freight congestion on the railroads.

In his address Capt. Dravo said:

Capt. Dravo Talks of Growth.

"When the Panama inter-ocean canal is completed, the Ohio and Mississippi rivers will constitute an inland link in a continental waterway reaching the markets of the world, and in connection with the rapid increase of present trade, it is certain that the demands upon the capacity of this far-reaching waterway will be almost unlimited, and only unpardonable folly will be allowed to block the way of such a promising future.

"With every available rail transportation outlet blocked by accumulated freight consignments, the enforced shutdowns of the furnaces of the Mahoning valley and other points for the want of fuel held over at the mines or blocked on the way sidings, the long continued delays of merchants and manufacturers in securing needed supplies or making shipments of goods sold, it is manifest that if Pittsburgh is to grow in the ratio of the past, existing shipping facilities must at least be duplicated. More railroads must enter the city, must be encouraged instead of being embarassed by obstacles interposed by councils or existing railway corporations. When will we find another railroad system like the Goulds' that will fight its way for a foothold here?"

Allegheny Track Work.

H. S. Wilgus, engineer in charge of the Allegheny track elevation work, presented an interesting paper on the work containing details of methods and costs of the great concrete work that is being done. In the course of it he said:

"Thus far no definite plans have been determined upon for the West Penn passenger terminals in Allegheny. The present terminal facilities for the immense local passenger traffic out of Allegheny will be greatly improved, but the general layout of yard tracks will be about the same. The double slip switch at Marion avenue will be moved further west and a series of cross-overs putting connecting the four tracks and the one leading to the passenger yards and depot."

A paper by Engineer E. A. Amaden of the American Bridge Company on the new Ft. Wayne railroad bridge over the Allegheny was replete with technical description.

Were Treated Unfairly.

On motion of Thomas H. Johnston, consulting engineer of the Pennsylvania Lines west, the society rescinded previous action to give Carnegie library the use of its library books. Mr. Johnston contended that the trustees of the Carnegie institute had not treated the society fairly when the library building was erected, it having been intended that the society should have quarters there, but the trustees asked a rental of $2,500 yearly, he said, which is seven-eighths of the income of the society.

Dr. John A. Brashear, although a trustee of the institute, concurred with Mr. Johnston, and urged that the engineers' library be retained where it is.

ERUPTION IN PERU.

Mountain Not Before Suspected of Being a Volcano Sends Up Dust and Smoke.

LIMA, PERU, Sept. 23.—(Copyright Cable.)—News has just been received that Mont Chullapata, 18 miles from Celendin, has been erupting volcanic dust and smoke for the last fortnight. There is no record that Mont Chullapata was ever believed to be a volcano. Loud noises are now heard 30 miles away as the result of the volcanos action.

There have been several earthquakes around the mountain and great chasms have been opened in the sides of the volcano.

YANKEE MATCH SUPREME.

Driving the Old-Fashioned German Article Out of the Market.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—The German match-making business, in which about $8,570,000 is invested, has been brought within measurable distance of ruin by the output of the Diamond Match Company's new factories near Mannheim. Matches that six months ago were sold from the German works at $20 a case are now selling at $16 a case, or $1 below the cost of production by the old-fashioned process.

The Diamond company uses machinery from the United States. Their German branch has been in operation for five months and it always sells at prices below the offers made by the old companies.

QUAY ON THE STUMP.

Will Assist Penrose and Pennypacker in Schuylkill County.

POTTSVILLE, PA., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Republican County Chairman Leib was today notified by Senator Quay that the senator will visit Schuylkill county next month in company with Senator Penrose and Judge Pennypacker. As this will be Quay's first visit to this section a monster mass meeting in his honor is being arranged.

A Socialist organization with 500 members was completed here today. Julius Keller, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, was elected president.

County Treasurer Arrested.

YORK, PA., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—County Treasurer William O. Thompson was arrested this morning on 10 charges, of altering, raising and falsely issuing bills. He is also alleged to have retained for his own use a temporary loan of $25,000. He was held in $40,000 bail.

by the soldiers. Secretary Root, who stood near the car was hustled, and one of the Washington correspondents was placed under arrest. The president protested against the roughness of Col. Harrison's veterans.

Put to Bed With a Book.

The stretcher cot on which the president lay, being found to be too large to be passed through the gate of the car, the bearers made a sort of cradle of their hands and carried Mr. Roosevelt aboard. The president was put to bed with a book and read until the train reached Richmond, Ind., about two hours.

Gov. Durbin and other prominent citizens were at the train to bid him goodby.

Reassuring news of the president's condition was made public tonight by the surgeons who performed the operation. The indications, they say, are for quick recovery, as the nature of the trouble is by no means serious.

In consequence of the precautions advised, the progress of the presidential train to Washington will be slow, and probably it will not arrive until tomorrow night. The trip to Washington will be made without a trained nurse, as the two physicians in attendance are deemed sufficient for all emergencies.

A Message to Dr. Rixey.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—An official report of the president's condition came to the navy department this afternoon from Dr. George A. Lung, the surgeon who was detailed to accompany the chief executive on his trips. It was addressed to Rear Admiral P. M. Rixey, chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery, and in his absence from the city its text was not made public. Dr. John F. Urie, the assistant chief of the bureau, and who for a time was detailed to act as physician to the Roosevelt family, took the report to Secretary Moody. It was very much in accord with the statement issued by Secretary Corutiyou from Indianapolis preceding the operation on the president.

From the information at hand Dr. Urie is of the opinion that the president will be all right in a very short time. Such wounds as that described are apt to be more painful than serious.

There is an accumulation of business on hand awaiting Mr. Roosevelt's attention, and this, with the fact that the president has promised to witness the parade of the Grand Army two weeks from tomorrow, lead officials in Washington to believe he will remain here until that occasion has passed.

Mrs. Roosevelt Hears the News.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The first news of the indisposition of President Roosevelt bulletined here came as a rumor from New York. Soon afterward the president's office in the bank building received the statement of Secretary Courtelyou by wire, and at the same time a telegram was received for Mrs. Roosevelt.

She was absent from home at the time and did not return until almost dark. The message assured her that there was nothing alarming about the operation. Mrs. Roosevelt later was kept informed as to her husband's condition. She will start for the capital probably tomorrow.

Yard Brakeman Killed.

G. M. King, a yard brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, was injured late last night in the yard at Twenty-sixth street. He was taken to the West Penn hospital, where he died early this morning. King's skull was fractured, his right ankle and hip broken. He boarded at No. 2915 Penn avenue and his home was in Ohio.

WANTED TO BORROW CITY'S BLOODHOUNDS

Dr. A. S. Russell of Clearfield county requested the loan of a brace of bloodhounds at police headquarters last night. CATHOLICS HUNT SPEAKEASIES IN THE FOURTEENTH

Total Abstinence Society of St. Agnes' Church Will Work as a Body in Fight.

ACTION IS TO BE HAD THROUGH CONSTABLE

Information Will Be Gathered and Prosecution Started at Once—Claimed That There Are 200 Speakeasies in the Parish.

"In a month the speakeasy will be a thing rare and hard to find in the parish of St. Agnes' Roman Catholic church, which includes portions of the Fourteenth and the Eleventh wards." This was the statement made last evening by B. F. Coll, vice president of the Catholic Total Abstinence society of the Pittsburgh diocese after an enthusiastic meeting of the St. Agnes church branch of that society, held in the lecture room of the Soho public school. There were about 200 women and 150 men present.

The total abstinence society of St. Agnes' proposes as an organization, to take up this movement. It was stated last night that there are about 200 speakeasies in the parish and that one block, between the river and Forbes street, contains 24 of them. It is proposed, according to a statement made by Vice President Coll, to place the charges and evidence in the hands of Constable John McCauley of the Fourteenth ward, who was elected to that position on the Citizens ticket last February. It is realized that the plan of placing the information in the hands of the city police is useless, for the police invariably profess themselves unable to collect evidence in such cases.

It was an unusually interesting meeting held last evening. The first speaker was Attorney John Marron, whose prohibition beliefs are well known. In the course of an interesting talk, lasting an hour, he said: "Water is in bad repute in the Fourteenth ward. There are 15,000 people and about 3,500 voters here. With 28 licensed places and a vast number of unlicensed, water has hardly a chance against alcohol here. If you wish to close the speakeasy your duty is to take the information to the district attorney and not to swear at the police. We know by the records of the United States custom house that there are hundreds of places licensed by the government which have no city license to sell liquor. A more effective way than the use of the whole police force, however, is to take steps to stop the bottler and wholesale dealer from selling to the speakeasy."

Attorney Marron was followed by the Rev. Father John G. Beane, of the cathedral, who is president of the Catholic Total Abstinence society of the Pittsburgh diocese. Father Beane is leading in this movement and made an impassioned plea for the members of the union at St. Agnes' to bestir themselves to put an end to the operation of the joints surrounding St. Agnes' church and throughout the parish. He denounced Irish Catholics who are in the speakeasy business as degraded members of the race and church and he asked the men and women present to ostracise those whom they knew to be in the business and drive them from the neighborhood.

The Rev. Michael McGeary, pastor of the Roman Catholic church of St. John the Baptist in Lawrenceville, who was formerly connected with St. Agnes' church, spoke briefly, saying that the society in St. John's church plans similar action in its parish. The Rev. H. McHugh, pastor of St. Agnes', said that he was heartily in favor of the movement and would aid all in his power.

GROWING RICHER EVERY DAY.

Two Classes Who Are Gaining in Wealth—The Rich and the Poor.

The gain in new depositors as shown by a recent statement of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Smithfield street, opposite postoffice, is remarkable. Fifteen thousand persons in a single year started through the aid of the old established banking house, on the way to prosperity, and in a few years independence will be within their grasp, if they keep up the saving habit so well begun. There is room for thousands more. This bank receives deposits by mail or in person from a dollar up, and pays 4 per cent compound interest. Write for booklet No. 26.

ODELL DECLINES TO GO ON TICKET

rank and file of the delegates to the state convention changed to one of the liveliest interest. By 6 o'clock in the evening Gov. Odell was being urged by his personal friends to come to Saratoga and settle the controversy, but to this request he at first answered that he signified what his wishes in the matter were and that the convention could work out the situation itself. His esteem for Mr. Sheldon was as great as ever, but because of certain revelations he had become convinced that Mr. Sheldon could not help, and would only hurt the ticket.

Gov. Odell's friends then began to work actively to get Mr. Sheldon to retire, and as a result telegrams began pouring in from all sections asking delegates not to vote for Sheldin, on the ground of his business affiliations. Leaders from up the state were apprised of the fact that the governor was averse to Mr. Sheldon's nomination and towards 9 o'clock the news was known about the corridors.

Odell's Position Is Plain.

About that time Gov. Odell, in response to a query from Lieut. Gov. Woodruff as to his attitude on the Sheldon matter, sent a telegram saying that he would not run on the ticket if Mr. Sheldon's name was on it. Gov. Odell's father and brother then went to the telephone and told the governor that he must come to Saratoga and straighten out the matter. Gov. Odell arrived about midnight and immediately went to see Senator Platt. At 2 o'clock Gov. Odell came out of the senator's cottage and said that Sheldon had withdrawn. He added that Mr. Sheldon was preparing a letter explaining his position.

Senator Platt's control of the Republican machine, which had hung by a thread all day, was saved only by his submission to Gov. Odell. It is probable that Senator Frank N. Higgins of Olean will be named for lieutenant governor.

Kings county may get the nomination for secretary of state for Sheriff Dike.

Early in the day Sheldon made this statement: "If I had the least idea that any business connection of mine in any way interfered with the success of the ticket I would at once withdraw. The stories in the main, about my connection with trusts and distilleries, are absolutely untrue."

READY TO TELL ALL.

Alleged Bribe Taker Who Got the Worst of It Returns to St. Louis to Turn State's Evidence.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Sept. 23.—Ex-Councilman Frederick G. Uthoff, who it is said, was robbed of $45,000 or the $50,000 which it is alleged he received for his vote on the Central traction bill, by R. M. Snyder of Kansas City, has returned from Colorado to testify at Snyder's trial next Monday, and was in conference with Circuit Attorney Folk today.

It is believed Uthoff's return is second in importance only to that of John K. Murrell, and that his revelations may render unnecessary the testimony of the fugitive, Charles F. Kelly, who is wanted by the state as a witness against certain millionaire bribe-givers in the city lighting bill legislation.

RECEIVER FOR VANDALIA.

Big Suit Will Be Entered Against Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—Judge Burroughs of Edwardsville, sitting in the Bond county circuit court, has entered a decree appointing H. C. Begole of Belle Isle as receiver of the Vandalia railroad. The receiver has qualified and the court has issued an order authorizing him to bring suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Indianapolis & Terre Haute Railroad Company for the restitution of $8,000,000.

Of the $8,000,000 which will be sued for $2,200,000 represents dividends paid to the defendants on preferred stock alleged to have been fraudulently issued. The litigation has been pending several years.

HUFF'S PAPER IN.

Westmoreland Candidate's Certificate Landed Before the Bell Rang.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The time limit for filing certificates of nomination expired today. To accommodate late-comers the state department was kept open until midnight. The last certificate filed was that of Col. George F. Huff of Greensburg.

Secretary Griest rejected the certificates of nomination of James E. Clark of Philadelphia and Homer L. Castle of Pittsburgh Prohibition nominees for common pleas judge, on the ground that that party is not entitled to nominate by certificate. The time limit for filing nomination papers expires next Tuesday.

Edna Audley Released.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Edna Audley, who was arrested at Oil City yesterday charged by Detective W. H. Morrisy, of Pittsburgh, and Constable J. G. Thompson, of this place, as knowing something about the recent robbery of the Black's store, at which time $1,500 worth of silks were taken, was brought here today, but no one could identify her and she was released.

GHASTLY DETAIL OF YOUNG'S SIN ONLY HINTED AT

New York Police Say He Is Greatest Fiend Known in History.

EXPECT CONVICTION IN THIRTY DAYS

Accused Man Makes Statement Laying Murder of Mrs. Pulitzer Upon Man Named Eiling—His Attorneys Say He Is Innocent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 23.—Held under a formal accusation of murder in the first degree, William Hooper Young is in the tombs. He will be rushed to trial as speedily as possible, and Assistant District Attorney Garvan believes that within 30 days Young will be placed in the death chamber at Sing Sing.

That the grandson of Brigham Young is one of the most depraved human beings ever charged with a crime in New York city is the assertion of Mr. Garvan and Capt. Titus. They say that the extent of his atrocity has not even been hinted at in the stories as published. Unless they are greatly mistaken, the assistant district attorney and the chief of the detective bureau have in their possession evidence which will absolutely disprove Young's story of a confederate. This evidence was found in the trunk which was sent to and returned from Chicago. The nature of the evidence never has been made public, and it of such a revolting nature that it will only be hinted at except at the trial.

Call Him a Fiend.

"Young," said one of those who had heard his confession, and who knows the extent of his crime, "is the greatest fiend that has been known in the police annals of crime. What I say to you is not based upon conjecture. It is something which I know to be true. I will only add that when Young goes before a jury it will be only a short step thereafter to his doom."

Young was placed in the hospital ward of the Tombs and Dr. Campbell, the Tombs physician, after closely observing the prisoner for three hours, by direction of the district attorney, said that he had not seen any signs of insanity.

Capt. Titus today said that Young had sold Mrs. Pulitzer's diamonds for $8 50 to a person for whom the detectives were looking. The captain said that a search would be made for the "Charles Simpson Eiling" named by Young.

At the close of an interview between Capt. Titus and Young, Capt. Titus said Young had made the following statement:

"About three weeks ago I met a man named Charles Simpson Eilers in Central park. He accosted me. We got acquainted, though he was a degenerate. After that he called on me several times at my flat.

Blames All on Eiling.

"On the night Mrs. Pulitzer died Eiling and I met her at Broadway and Forty-sixth street by appointment I had made. We went to the flat together. I went out for some whisky after we got there and left Eiling and the woman alone. When I got back I found Mrs. Pulitzer lying across the bed with a gag in her mouth. Eiling had gone.

"I ripped open her clothing and moved her hands back and forth over her head to induce respiration. When she didn't breathe I put my hand under her waist and felt her heart. It was not beating. Then I decided to notify the police, but thought that instead of calling a policeman, to go to police headquarters, which I thought was in city hall. I got on a train and started down town and on the way I got to thinking what a lot of disgrace the affair would bring upon me and my father. That made me decide to get rid of the body.

"I took a long knife and cut into the body, intending to cut the body up so I could get it into a trunk. When I made the first cut the odor was so awful that I could go no further."

Describes the Murder.

Capt. Titus said that the prisoner described Eiling as being a man about 25 years old, smooth-faced, five feet seven inches in height, with a "bright, clear look in his eyes, pale face and wearing dark clothes, with a straw hat, when last seen."

Shortly after Young had been in the detective headquarters Lawyer Hart appeared and said in reply to inquiries:

"Young is an innocent man. The police believe they have got him on alleged confession, which he made before he had legal council. It will be proven that Young was not even an accomplice."

The funeral of Mrs. Pulitzer was held at North Amboy, N. J., today from her parents' home.

REVOLUTION IN NEW REGION.

This Time the Northern Coast of Colombia Is Affected.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—The Colombian revolution has broken out in a new place, according to information received at the navy department today. An American fruit company transmitted to Secretary Moody a cable dispatch from its agent at Santa Marta, on the north coast of Colombia near the mouth of the Magdalnea river, saying conditions there were very much disturbed; that the telegraph and railroad communication had been interrupted, and requesting the department's attention. Our consul at Barranquilla, near Santa Marta, was called on for immediate report.

In case the condition of affairs at Santa Marta should demand the presence of a vessel the navy department has decided to send the gunboat Marietta, now at La Guayra; but the condition of affairs at La Guayra is such that if the Marietta is obliged to leave, the Montgomery, at Cape Haitien, will be ordered forthwith to La Guayra.

Engineer Fatally Hurt.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Benjamin Brown, a Baltimore & Ohio engineer, was running the day express through Uniontown this evening, when his head struck a mail catcher as he was leaning out of the cab. His skull was fractured. He was hurried to the Cottage State hospital here, and may not live over night. Brown's home is in this place, where he has a family.

ITALIAN KILLED BY COMPANION

BOARDING HOUSE FIGHT ENDS FATALLY.

Name of Murderer Unknown. Braddock Police Have Clue. Several to Be Arrested.

As a result of a quarrel in an Italian boarding house, near the Rumbaugh Brick Company's plant, a short distance west of Pitcairn, an Italian, Frank Czenzo, aged 30 years, is dead, and his murderer, whose name is unknown, is a fugitive from justice. The shooting occurred about 8:30 o'clock last evening. A large number of boarders living at the house engaged in a quarrel that terminated in a fight between Czenzo and his assailant, who shot the former through the heart, killing him instantly.

Some of the dead man's companions notified Dr. W. H. Montgomery of Pitcairn, who went to the scene of the murder. On reaching the house Dr. Montgomery found the man dead, and the room in a state that gave evidence that a fierce struggle had taken place. None of the Italians in the house would divulge the name of the murderer, or say what was the cause of the quarrel leading up the the killing.

As there is no police force in Pitcairn, the Braddock officers were notified and started a search for the murderer. Chief of Police William Hall of Turtle Creek, who was also notified of the affair about an hour after it occurred, said last night that he had noticed a tall Italian, said to answer the description of the murderer, making his way rapidly through Turtle Creek toward Braddock. The man was carrying his coat, and when passing Hall acted suspiciously. At that time Hall had not heard of the murder and made no attempt to arrest the man.

The Braddock police are working on the clue furnished by Hall and hope to find the man in hiding in their town. The coroner was notified of the affair and Deputy Coroner Hugh Dempsey, who went to Pitcairn to secure the body, was notified to arrest all of those suspected of knowing anything about the affair.

rested. Ten proprietors were held for court and the remaining 59 were sentenced to pay fines ranging from $25 to $100. In the majority of cases the $100 fine was imposed. Over 250 visitors were fined or sentenced to the workhouse.

Street walkers and their mate companions—sneak thieves, confidence men, opium "fiends" and crooks of all sorts—who flocked to the city during the municipal upheaval last year, were expelled. They numbered over 150. Some of the men were sent to the workhouse and others warned to leave town instantly.

In the First district 25 opium joints have been closed and as many confiscated layouts are on exhibition at police headquarters as proof of the work. Renters of pipes and "dope" cooks have been driven out of the business until few remain, and these will suffer when evidence against them is collected.

Given Extreme Penalty.

Four houses in Second avenue and three in Fourth avenue, where girls under 16 years of age were harbored, were closed and the proprietresses were given the extreme penalty. The girls were returned to their homes. Five men charged with procuring young girls for disorderly houses have been arrested. Two were convicted and the others are awaiting trial.

The crusade has effected the closing of 18 gambling houses. These places were not professional gambling houses under the popular interpretation of the term, but were clubs and private houses where poker games were in progress. Faro and roulette are declared by Supt. McAleese not to exist in Pittsburgh.

The slot machines have not escaped. Fifty were confiscated. Some of them were gambling machines requiring a deposit ranging from 10 cents to $2 in the slot.

The report of Inspector John Lennix of the Lawrenceville district is equally interesting. He found no disorderly houses, but corraled 10 speakeasies between Twelfth and Thirty-third street. Of the proprietors 10 were held for court and nine paid heavy fines.

South Side Cleaned Up.

In the South Side district Inspector William McShane arrested the proprietors of 10 speakeasies and disorderly houses on warrants. Five were held for court and five were fined or sentenced to terms at the workhouse.

In submitting the report of Inspector Robert Denniston, Supt. McAleese said the East End district was almost entirely free from the class of criminals that is being sought in the crusade. Along Second avenue and Bates street the most trouble is experienced. In that region 14 speakeasies have been proceeded against and the proprietors held for court. The fines imposed have netted the city a revenue exceeding $4,000.

From February 1, the opening of the fiscal year, the total number of arrests is 17,678. The total for six months is 15,136 in 1902, against 10,912 for the same period last year.

FIRST SPEECH ON THE RIPPER BY MR. GUTHRIE

He Explains Why His Faction Favored It Until Legislature Passed It.

A BITTER ARRAIGNMENT OF GOV. STONE

Ex-Gov. Pattison and His Party Go Over Fayette County, Speaking at Uniontown and Connellsville—Slim Hope for Democrats.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Connellsville, Pa., Sept. 23.—Fayette Democrats are trying to make themselves believe they have a chance to carry the county this fall. There will be a rude awakening from their dream in November.

Ex-Gov. Pattison, George W. Guthrie and the other Democratic spellbinders labored in Uniontown this afternoon and here tonight. They had a small audience at the county seat, and the crowd in this town was not a record-breaker.

At the Uniontown meeting this afternoon Mr. Guthrie discussed the Pittsburgh "ripper." He had been silent on the subject, although Pattison has mentioned it in his speeches. The candidate for lieutenant governor, who was one of the original friends of the legislation, gave his views on the law. He spoke in answer to the speech of Judge Pennypacker in Pittsburgh last week.

The aim of the local Democrats is to slip through its candidates for assemblymen. There are few Democrats who believe there is much likelihood of Pattison carrying the county, but they think he can possibly help the home ticket.

Not Likely to Get Kennedy.

O. W. Kennedy, general superintendent of the Frick Coke Company, has given the Democratic nomination for congress, in the hope that he can control the votes of this corporation for the party's candidate for assembly. The indications, however, point to a declination from Kennedy. He has not said what he will do, but there are reasons for believing that he will not be in the fight. With Kennedy out of the contest, Democrats in Fayette county hope for little.

A. F. Cooper is the Republican nominee for congress in the district. There never has been a question about his election. His county will give him a good majority. Somerset also is sure to send him out of the county with many votes to spare. Little Democratic Greene cannot do enough for Cooper's opponent to cause alarm among Republicans.

There was a possibility of trouble over in Somerset, so long as there was a likelihood of Gen. W. H. Koontz accepting a fusion nomination for senator. The latest advices from there indicate that Koontz will not go into a fight.

William E. Crow of Uniontown is the Republican candidate for senator in the Fayette-Greene district. Effort has been made to show that Cooper and Crow are not friendly. These reports are without foundation. The two candidates are on the best of terms and working together to secure a big majority for the whole ticket.

Freeland Finds Small Comfort.

B. N. Freeland of Waynesburg, the Democratic nominee for senator, spent the day in the county, but he did not find conditions to his liking. With almost a solid Republican party back of Crow, the Democrat was about able to tell what the majority against him would be.

Andrew A. Thompson, Dr. L. F. Arnsberg and Richard Davis are the Republican assembly candidates whom the Democrats are scheming to defeat. The men are all strong and are hard at work. Frank Fuller, H. M. Kephart and other Republican leaders say there will be no trouble carrying the county for Pennypacker and the whole ticket. The nomination of Pennypacker with the approval of the Fayette Republicans.

When Pattison and his party reached Greensburg this morning from Johnstown, they were met by these Fayette Democrats: Judge R. E. Umbel, W. C. McKean, George B. Jeffries, ex-Sheriff George McCormick, R. W. Dawson, R. F. Kennedy, O. W. Kennedy and John Boyle. At Uniontown these Democrats boarded the private car: F. E. Markell, W. K. Brown, Capt. A. C. Crow, John Graham and I. W. Rutter. Thomas Lynch, president of the Frick Coke Company, who was going to Uniontown on business, paid his respects to Pattison and Guthrie.

The Uniontown Meeting.

The meeting at Uniontown was slimly attended. The men of the coke regions are too busy making money to lay off to hear political speeches. M. M. Cochran presided, and Representative George R. Dixon of Elk was the first speaker. Like Representative Fred T. Ikeler of Columbia his assignment is to abuse the last legislature. In addition he threw in an appeal for Republican voters, making the amusing statement that this is the right year to forget party lines.

He was followed by Mr. Guthrie, who, in the course of his speech had this to say of the Pittsburgh ripper:

At the last session of the legislature there was a bill passed which has been known throughout the whole nation as the "ripper" bill. I want to tell you about that bill and what has been done under it.

The first suggestion of any such a bill came from Harrisburg in 1897. It was dangled before the people of Pittsburgh as a bait and a promise of relief from one of the most corrupt, arbitrary and brutal rings that a municipality ever suffered from. In 1901 it was made the condition of the passage of a law for the proper government of the city of Pittsburgh.

From 1896, when the people of Pittsburgh had been ready by promises made by the said machine to believe that good laws would be passed for them, they had been in session after session supplicant at the feet of this boss for laws that were necessary for the government of their city, and session after session they were sent back disappointed, but in 1901 they were informed that they could have a law which would give them a charter satisfactory to them. The sole condition upon which it was to be passed was that it should be accompanied with a "ripper."

Emasculation of the Bill.

The good citizens of Pennsylvania had been suffering under the rule of this ring and knew there was no help for them until they could get a charter for the government of the city, and many of them submitted to the terms. A bill was drawn up for the government of the city, which was promised to them literally as it was drawn up. What that went to Harrisburg the men in control there of the state machine, in one night struck out of it every provision intended for good government, which they had intelligence enough to recognize, and in that emasculated form the bill was passed with the "ripper" attached to it.

The people of Pittsburgh who had submitted to the threat of this "ripper" as the price which must be paid for good government, were given the "ripper" without proper law for the government of their city, and the only good features in that law left after they got through with it, were the provisions which they did not have intelligence enough to recognize.

And another promise that went with that ripper was that the power of good government under it should be used to wipe out the corrupt men who had been put in the control of the city of Pittsburgh by the machine and deliver the government of the city and give it to the people of the city. The machine was in control and govern the city until the first election day under the law.

The governor put a man there as recorder of the city, and the first step which he made was to give the citizens of Pittsburgh good government, an honest government, and this was answered by an order from Harrisburg removing him. The ring man was, by the order of the governor, reinstated in absolute power in the city of Pittsburgh with greater power than it had held under the law which the people had struggled against so long and which was so bitter to them. So, instead of getting a good charter as promised to them, an honest administration, they had the ring put back in control with greater power than it ever held.

The Celebrated Postcript.

The governor of Pennsylvania when he did this was compelled by the sense of indignation which it would bring upon him to issue a proclamation attempting to explain his act, and he added a postscript in which he said: "I was not bribed to do this." Think of it. That the governor of this commonwealth was obliged by the very act which he was doing and the circumstances which surrounded it, to proclaim to the people that he was not a felon, and he is known today in the City of Pittsburgh as the "P. S. governor." In the whole political history of this country I do not believe such an ignominious act has ever been perpetrated.

One of the considerations was the promise of political support from this ring and the liberties and the good government of the citizens of Pittsburgh, for two years were traded off, and one of the political considerations was a corrupt political bargain between the man who did it and the beneficiaries of the deed.

The distinguished jurist to whom I referred a moment ago, speaking in the city of Pittsburgh, says it was unfortunate that such a bill should even have passed. In the latter part of his remarks I heartily agree with him, but I go further. I do not say that it was unfortunate. I say that it was criminal to seize the liberties of the people and trade them off, whether for money or for political support.

Gov. Pattison stuck to his original speech. He intends to follow the one line until his opponents answer him. It is altogether likely that he will not need to write another speech. The other speakers were Ikeler and Col. F. J. Fitzsimmon.

The party came here tonight. There was a large crowd around the Marietta hotel to get a look at the candidates. Two meetings were held, one in the opera house and the other in front of the hotel. The small boy with the tin horn made it impossible for even Mr. Ikeler to be heard.

The open air gathering was presided over by Wooda N. Carr, Democratic county chairman. At the theater Edward Higbee was the chairman. Speeches were made by all of the spellbinders.

Tomorrow morning the campaigners will go to Pittsburgh, reaching there at 9:35. At 1:40 in the afternoon they go to Beaver Falls and a night meeting will be held at New Castle.

John S. Rilling has called a meeting of the Democratic state campaign committee at the Monongahela house in Pittsburgh tomorrow morning. He declines to say what the conference is for.

SAYS WATER IS UNFIT FOR DOMESTIC USE

Chemist Aschman Reports Fluid Supplied by South Side Companies Filled With Bacteria.

The Hilltop board of trade last night heard a report by Prof. F. T. Aschman, the analytical chemist, on samples of water taken from the Monongahela and the Chartiers water companies' supply pipes. Prof. Aschman took five sample from several points in the district. After reporting on the several samples the chemist writes:

"From the results obtained it will be seen that the water furnished by the Monongahela Water Company is the untreated, unpurified water taken directly from the Monongahela river; while the water furnished by the Chartiers Water Company is sometimes partly purified, sometimes pumped out of the river into the supply pipes. The high contents of these waters in ammonia and nitrogen, and the enormous number of bacteria they contain, indicate that they are totally unfit for domestic use, and contain dangerous contaminations."

Sample No. 1, taken from the intake pipe of the Chartiers Water Company at Becks run, was fetid, the percentage of chlorine was 24.85, it had free ammonia, albuminoid ammonia, nitrates and bacteria in plenty. Sample No. 2, taken from the hydrant at Washington and Allen avenues, was just as bad. Sample No. 3, from a store in Southern avenue, Knoxville, had an odor like the others and contained free albuminoid ammonia and bacteria. Another sample, taken from a hydrant near the Lincoln laundry, Mt. Oliver, was a little better. This is the report which Prof. Aschman made on the fifth sample, taken from another store in Knoxville: Appearance, cloudy; odor, fetid; chlorine, 23.09; free ammonia, 0.014; albuminoid ammonia, 0.435; nitrogen, as nitrites, none; as nitrates, 2.23; bacteria, per cent, 10,911.

The committee on water rates reported that it had consulted Attorney W. B. Rodgers, who had said that before proceeding against the water companies in the courts, the city of Pittsburgh should be appealed to, as, according to the committee, the Chartiers Valley Water Company is not keeping to its contract to charge the inhabitants of Belzhoover the same water rent charged by the city water department. The matter was also laid before Recorder Brown and Director McCandless.

STAND BY THE MINISTER.

The East McKeesport Presbyterian Church Explains the Resignation of the Rev. C. F. Huss.

The resignation of the Rev. Charles F. Huss, as pastor of the East McKeesport Presbyterian church, has been accepted by the Redstone presbytery. The stories published in connection with his leaving the East McKeesport charge and later the announcement that he had resigned, caused Mr. Huss considerable annoyance while in the west, where he went for the benefit of his health on the advice of physicians. Yesterday there was issued the following statement of his severing his connection with the church, which is signed by all the members of the church session:

"We, the undersigned members of the session of the Presbyterian church of East McKeesport, do certify that to the best of our knowledge, the Rev. Charles F. Huss, our former pastor, did not receive a purse, nor was there any portion of his salary paid in advance, nor did his salary continue during the three months' vacation granted him by the congregation. We can also say that there is no split in the congregation at the present time, and that action has already been taken on the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Huss, and we, as members of the session, regret his resignation and wish him Godspeed in his work in the ministry."

Creatore has swept New Yorkers completely off their feet. He is at the New Exposition this afternoon and evening.

Prof. J. H. Gittings heard Creatore in New York and says: "He will set Pittsburghers crazy." Hear him at the New Exposition tonight.

How to handle the crowds that are eager to hear Creatore is causing the New Exposition management much worriment. Better come to the matinees.

SAY IT IS POLITICS.

Policemen Discharged from East End Force Say They Never Had Hearing Before the Board.

Edward Frank and Ezekiel Sherrard, officers dropped from the squad at No. 6 police station, declare they do not know why they have been discharged. Both men say they never received word that any charges had been filed against them and say were never given a hearing before the police board. Policeman John Sweeney of the Oakland station also says he is ignorant of any charges being made against him.

Edward Frank says he has been on the sliding board ever since he refused to sign the Yellow Book.

"It is all on account of politics," he said last night. "I have been a worker in the Citizens movement in the Sixteenth ward for some time. Last spring I worked hard for Henry Nichols for council, and after the election Richard Melrzwa, the organization candidate, who was defeated, declared that he would have myself and another officer fired. Out of the 32 night policemen at the East End station Sherrard and myself were about the only ones who refused to sign the Yellow Book."

Policeman Ezekiel Sherrard is also a worker in the Citizens party. Regarding his discharge he said: "I have always tried to faithfully perform my duty as an officer, and never had a complaint from the inspector, captain or lieutenants in my district."

MINE OPERATORS MEET.

Though Price of Coal Averages $12 a Ton, They Profess Satisfaction With the Week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Although practically no anthracite coal is being received in this city, and the prices continue to soar, the presidents of the coal railroads at their meeting today expressed satisfaction with the results of the week's work and declared that the outlook for the coming week is brighter than at any time since the strike began. They agree that many men would return to work if they did not fear violence, and they assume that the calling out of additional troops would inspire many men with confidence to resume.

One of the great coal companies has made large purchases of arms and ammunition in New York and has shipped them to its collieries in Pennsylvania, intending to arm volunteers to aid the coal and iron police.

There is no standard retail price for coal now. Dealers get whatever they deem proper, but the average rate for household sizes today was $12 a ton of 2,000 pounds. The demand for coal has enormously increased within a week, as many families have returned to New York from the country. A sudden cold snap under the existing condition is what the operators particularly dread.

Pastor of an Allegheny Church Returns Home Bruised and Nervous.

GOOD WORK OF PITTSBURGH PREACHER

The Rev. C. D. Patterson, of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Relates to a Gazette Reporter of Last Friday's Experience.

The Rev. C. D. Patterson, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church of Allegheny, one of the delegates who was in the Shiloh Baptist church of Birmingham, Ala., last Friday night, when, during a stampede, 110 people had their lives crushed out, returned home last night. He sustained painful bruises and is suffering from the nervous shock caused by the terrible scenes enacted before his eyes. A physician who was called last night to examine Pastor Patterson stated that he suffered no internal injuries, although he was terribly squeezed. The other Pittsburgh delegates will arrive home today. None was hurt. The story of the event was related last night to a Gazette reporter by the Rev. Mr. Patterson. He said:

"Just a few minutes before the fight that was the real cause of the disaster started the Rev. W. W. Brown of the Ebenezer church, Pittsburgh, and I were seated together near the front of the house. Booker T. Washington had just finished his address and there was a deafening applause that seemed to make the building tremble. As the place was suffocatingly hot, I suggested to Brother Brown that we leave at once. The aisles were crowded and it was several minutes before we reached the vestibule.

"Near the door I heard some angry words, and just as I looked around a woman in one of the galleries screamed 'Fire!' or 'Fight.' In an instant the crowd of 2,000 was a struggling, howling mob, each man and woman fighting desperately to gain the only exit. So quickly did the panic start that I had no time to reach the door, although I was not more than 10 feet from it. A few of those near the door surged past me, some of the weaker going down and being trampled under the feet of those behind. I got into a corner of the vestibule, just outside the first door, and succeeded in getting one woman out of a window just back of me. She was the only one who was successful in this, as in an instant probably a score tried to leave by this means, and it was only a few seconds before the window was jammed with dead bodies, while in the corner surrounding me were perhaps a dozen more, some with their brains trampled out.

"When I stepped into the corner of the hall I saw Brother Brown going back into the auritorium and endeavoring to allay the fears of the panic-Stricken crowd. How he even came out alive and uninjured is a miracle. When the stampede was over I found him in the front of the church. He had somehow reached the pulpit. Here, he tells me, he made further efforts to quiet the crowd and succeeded in persuading some of the more intelligent that there was no fire, and no danger outside the frenzy of the mob.

"While standing in the corner I saw men and women throw themselves from the galleries to the floor below, alighting in heaps cases on their heads, with the result that their necks were broken. A long vestibule opened out on a long flight of stairs, perhaps 15 feet above the street. It was here that most of those who started out perished. Some fell at the door and others, while trying to get past them, were seized by those behind and thrown aside. In a few minutes there was a pile of dead bodies from the top of the steps to the street.

"It was one hour and 30 minutes before a realization of their awful foolishness dawned on those still inside, and then the wails of those who missed loved ones prolonged the agony. Before and behind me were heaps of dead, piled in such manner that it was almost impossible for one to get either in or out.

"The fire department and the entire police force came to the scene and cleared away the dead on the steps and in the vestibule. Then those inside assisted in carrying out the dead and wounded, and then began the operation of trying to identify the dead. In many cases this was well-nigh impossible, as some were trampled into unrecognizable masses, every bone in their bodies being broken. Some bodies were without heads and some without arms or legs. It is a sight that no witness will ever forget, much as he would like to."

THE STRENUOUS LIFE.

A Great Strain.

No one disputes the fact that we are living in a "rapid" age; it is rush, rush, rush from morning until night, and competition is so fierce that the struggle does not cease until the machine is worn out. Women, too, even when surrounded by every comfort, become infected by the common spirit, and what with their clubs and many social duties, have no time to give thought to their physical well-being, until they are suddenly brought to a sharp realization of the fact that nothing in their lives is so important as attention to correct, or rational living. It may surprise the readers to learn that women are more prone to piles than men, and in most cases, because it is difficult to impress upon them the importance of regular movements of the bowels; irregularity means straining at stool, and straining means piles, with the certainty (under the usual methods of treatment) that the sufferer will "have them alway with her," by "usual methods" is meant the application of salves and lotions, or (as a last resort) a surgical operation. If there is a complaint which entails more distress and suffering upon those afflicted, than piles, or hemorrhoids, it is not known to the writer; fortunately, however, these are learning that there is a remedy that effectually cures all forms of piles; it is known as the Pyramid Pile Cure, is in suppository form, is applied directly to the parts, and does its work quickly and painlessly; it is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address, upon receipt of price. Mrs. John H. Castona, 2942 Arch street, Chicago, says: "I must write you that I was cured of a very aggravating case of itching and bleeding piles by the use of the great remedy, Pyramid Pile cure, even after several physicians had claimed there was no cure except by an operation. I am well now, and owe all to this valuable remedy. I cannot say enough for it." Write the Pyramid Drug Company, Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the cause and cure of piles.

The Exhibit of New Laces

Is the main feature today, and they are worthy of some special attention.

There is every kind of lace that will be used this season, and each grade and line was personally selected abroad—from the very low priced trimming laces to the exquisite real laces from Brussels, and the handsome Lace Robes from Paris.

On the whole it is a wonderful exhibit—even for this store, which leads in expansive variety.

Walking Suits for Women.

Our remarkably complete stock of Walking Suits is merely a sample of the fullness of this Autumn gathering of Women's Outer Garments.

These Walking Suits, while distinctly stylish, are splendidly practical, and you are sure to be pleased with the showing.

All the cloths that are used in such suits, all colors. Skirts full of swing and style, are unlined, and barely escape the ground.

A little detail:

$15. Suits of black or blue cheviot; short fly-front jacket; 9-gored flaring skirt; felled seams; inverted pleated back.

$30. Suits of tweed; fitted jacket with belt and velvet collar; entire suit finished with slot seams.

Also at the same price, suits of black and blue broadcloth; blouse jacket, ending with tabs back and front; kilted skirt of inverted pleats.

Norfolk Suits $20—though good enough to sell for $25. This is a special snowflake suit in a pretty Norfolk effect in black or blue, with white. We are enabled, through the anxiety of a new—and good—maker, to have our trade, to offer them for $20.

The Most Stylish of Dress Skirts.

Everything that is new in Dress Skirts is here—from the modest Black Cheviot at $5—a marvel at the price, by the way—on and up to the handsomest made at $90.

In between there is choice of cheviots, zibelines, etamines, voiles, broadcloths, Scotch tweeds and camel's hair—at $7.50 to $30.

Your choice need not stop at cloths. We are showing fine taffeta and peau de soie skirts, that for artistic beauty, are models of the designers' art. $10 to $75.

Two of our special numbers:

Dress Skirts at $5. Very fine all-wool cheviot—black and navy; flare bottom, 7-gore; lined with fine spun-glass cloth. All sizes from 39 to 45. The most convincing evidence of our supremacy in the skirt world.

Dress Skirts at $10. Five styles in fine cheviots, broadcloths and granites—black or blue. Handsomely trimmed with silk taffeta straps arranged in artistic designs. Choice of either fitted linings or drop skirts, with accordeon pleated ruffle.

Children's School Hats.

Hats that are jaunty and pretty, yet eminently practical for every-day wear, are here in profusion for the smallest boys and girls, as well as for the girls that are all but grown up. And all sizes between.

Girls' Hats, simply trimmed, some with plain band, others with streamers, all colors and black, are 75c to $3.50.

Children's Sailor Hats, in scratch and soft felt, trimmed with cord and tassel, rosettes, quills or velvet ribbon band and streamers, $1 to $3.50.

Patent Leather Sailor Hats, $3.

New Decorative Linens.

And something about the practical, also.

The reason why we go direct to the makers abroad is to enable us to sell goods to you for lower prices than if we had to depend solely on Importers. Importers must have a profit. You would have to pay that profit, as you do when you buy anything imported, from stores that never saw the other side.

25c each for Renaissance Lace Doylies or embroidered Linen Doylies, 35c goods.

75c each for Hand-Embroidered Table Centers—18x18 inches.

$4.75 each for Renaissance Lace Scarfs—20x54 inches. $5.75 goods.

$3 a pair for Hand-Embroidered Linen Pillow Cases. $3.75 and $4 goods.

$3.75 a pair for Hemstitched Linen Sheets—90x96 inches. Regular $5 goods.

Women's New Walking Hats.

What's so pleasant to talk about in connection with Walking Suits, mentioned elsewhere, as Walking Hats?

More fancies than we care to recount, but in the way of brevity let us say there are Walking Hats of Corduroy, Camel's Hair, plain Felt and plain Cloth.

Such smart trimmings as wings, quills, cocque feathers, breasts and pompons.

As for colors, all the plain colors that Fashion advises, as well as any number of combinations.

$3.50, $5, $6, $7 to $10 and from $10 to $18.

Smart 19-Inch Jackets, $10.

The personification of neatness—as admirable a little jacket as women ever wore.

Tan, castor and black kersey cloth.

Slot and stitched seams.

All lined with self colored satin.

Our new Jackets comprise every style that Fashion has approved, and you will find Jackets at about every price that you can think of, except the grotesque fractional prices that are named for shoddy.

French Voiles—French Crepes.

There are 25,000 yards of these handsome crepy stuffs here for your preference—represented by 72 pretty evening and street colors, as well as the unconventional black.

The incidental matter of rapid selling of these crepes is owing to the phenomenal demand, assisted by the variety we show.

The general price range is 85c, $1, $1.25, $1.50 and on to $2 a yard.

From the Custom House there came yesterday a lovely 45-inch wide Revered Crepe, fine and sheer as the finest hemstitched handkerchief. The French call the pretty and dainty open-work at regular intervals, which is a feature of this new material, revering—and thus you have French Revered Crepe. It is exclusive with us—a short way of saying it cannot be found elsewhere around Pittsburg. The exquisite color line comprises red, navy, porcelain, turquoise, reseda, castor, tan, gray and white and black, and the price is $1.25 a yard.

Women's Silk Waists.

Two notable groups—respectively, $5, $6, $8 and $10. We have never shown so elaborate an assortment at these prices, nor have present values ever been excelled.

At $5, the showing embraces Waists of Taffeta, Peau de Soie and Louisine, in plain colors and black; or black and white checks of various sizes. There are numerous styles of box pleating, stitched pleats and the like, in the newest of this season's effects.

At $6, the Waists are of Peau de Soie, Louisine or Taffeta, in the most attractive new effects; solid colors, including black. Twelve styles, including cluster-pleated fronts with stitched straps, stitched pleats with piping, pleats from neck to bust, and other stylish effects.

But these are only two of many groups. Other silk Waists are priced at $4 to $50—the latter elaborate and beautiful, and copied from French models.

The Autumn Shirtwaists.

No wonder women like the idea of holding fast through the Fall to the comfortable and good-looking shirtwaist. The heavy fabrics, in the charming new styles, are immensely popular and the popularity has a healthy growth.

Materials, many of which were never before used for shirtwaists, are most attractive, such as vestings, fleece-lined madras, pique, linen canvas, raw silk cheviot, basket weave and figured cheviot.

Our collection of these new shirtwaists is wonderfully broad and enticing. Prices begin at 95c and run up to $7.50 for a shirtwaist of handsomely figured basket-weave cheviot, trimmed with fancy metal buttons.

Women's Raincoats.

Manufacturers are on the jump, because of the unexpected increase of the popularity of women's raincoats.

Perfectly logical, though, for what better, or more practical garment could be devised for outdoor wear in the treacherous weather incident to Autumn and Winter?

The season's new styles are particularly good, and the garments are excellently well made. Our stock is broad enough to stand any strain you may put upon it.

Of special interest today is a group of stylish Raincoats at $16.50.

Plenty of others at $10 and along to $28.

Some very smart styles of Fancy Cheviot are made in the new single-breasted sack style, at $15 a suit.

Nobby Cheviots in double-breasted sack suits, $15, $18, $20 and $22 a suit.

Our double-breasted coat is extremely stylish. It is made with three buttons, long roll, medium short, good liberal shoulders. An entirely new coat and a very satisfactory coat.

STRONG REASONS WHY PARK SITE NOT AVAILABLE

City Solicitor Carnahan Points Out Many Unchangeable Obstacles.

MRS. SCHENLEY HAS GOT TO BE SEEN

In the Meantime the Providing of a Place on Which to Build the School of Technology Carnegie Proposes to Give Is Unsettled.

Opposition is steadily developing among members of councils to the proposition to take a portion of Schenley park for the site of the proposed Carnegie school of technology. When the committee met last Friday the sentiment was practically unanimous in favor of the park site, but discussion of the matter has changed the minds of many.

City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan unreservedly informed the members of the special committee yesterday, that the city could not use any part of the park without Mrs. Schenley's consent, and even if that were acquired, any citizen might contest it and would have a chance to win.

Select Councilman James J. Booth of the Fourteenth ward, a member of the committee on parks, is opposed to the use of any part of the park. He stated to several friends yesterday that he expected to oppose it as the parks are breathing spots for the people, and that any attempt to divert the park from such use, ought to be discouraged.

Might Be a Dangerous Precedent.

Select Councilman W. J. Zahniser of the Fifteenth ward, who is a member of the committee, says he does not favor putting the school in the park.

"I am unalterably opposed to it," said Mr. Zahniser. "Schenley park is a place for the people, and as such was given to the city by Mrs. Schenley. In the first place, to use part of the park as a site might establish a precedent that would be dangerous. It is a delicate thing to go to Mrs. Schenley and ask her for this when she gave it to the city as a park." Select Councilman S. J. Wainwright, Jr., of the Eighteenth ward, is also said to be opposed to using any part of the park.

The special committee appointed to confer with Mr. Carnahan met him at his office yesterday morning. The legal points were summed up as follows:

Hard Facts to Face.

First. The city cannot use any part of the 300 acres donated to the city by Mrs. Schenley, as the deed of gift says that the land is to be used as a public park.

Second. The city cannot use any part of the 100 acres bought from Mrs. Schenley by the city, because this deed and the option which was accepted and forms a part of the deed, specify that the land is for an extension to Schenley park and to be used for park purposes only.

Third. The city cannot spend the $360,000 remaining in the park fund, as this money was secured by the bond issue for park purposes only.

Fourth. It is a serious question, which could only be settled by the decision of the highest court, whether the city could even spend money for such a purpose, although it might be possible on the ground that the school would be for the "betterment of the city and to promote the best interests of the people."

Fifth. The securing of Mrs. Schenley's consent to the use of a part of Schenley park would practically settle the matter, although any citizen might raise the question as to whether land given for a park and accepted as such, could be diverted to the use proposed, and the court might sustain such an objection.

Next Move Is Unknown.

The special committee adopted a resolution asking the councilmanic committee on site to meet tomorrow at 3 o'clock, to hear their report. At this meeting it will be decided as to the method to be used to get Mrs. Schenley's consent. It is pretty generally decided that the negotiations must be conducted by a committee or a representative. The site committee will go to councils, state the circumstances, and ask that body to get Mrs. Schenley's consent. In view of the opposition that is developing, the next move cannot be forecasted. The concensus of opinion among those interested, yesterday, was that the selection and securing of a site is as far in the future as before the park site was suggested.

The park site suggested consists of about 28 acres of ground. About nine acres are in the part that the city bought from Mrs. Schenley, and 18.8 acres are in the park property donated by Mrs. Schenley.

The deed of gift of the 300 acres is dated October 30, 1889, and has a long preamble which says that whereas a public park is needed in Pittsburgh "for open air recreation, to promote the health and comfort of the people, to be for the use of the people as a park," the preamble closes with the significant phrase: "To be kept forever as a public park, and for no other use and purpose whatever."

The deed for the 100 acres which the city bought from Mrs. Schenley is dated March 25, 1891, and says "it shall became a part of Schenley park," and in another place says for "thus enlarging the public park."

The accompanying diagram shows the park site as well as the Flinn site, which has been optioned at $400,000.

ITALIANS CELEBRATED A NOTED ANNIVERSARY

Over 1,500 Paraded Streets and Afterward Had a Glorious Time at Central Turner Hall.

Over 1,500 Italians paraded the streets yesterday afternoon and wound up with a general jollification last night in commemoration of the 32nd anniversary of the realization of Garibaldi's dreams and the proclamation of Rome as the capital of united Italy.

The celebration was postponed from last Saturday, the real anniversary. Yesterday morning the Italio-Americans threw over their business cares and entered fully into the celebration of an event which in their mother country corresponds to the glorious Fourth in this country. Every Italian society, patriotic and fraternal, in this city and Allegheny, was represented by handsomely uniformed delegations. Headed by bands and carriages containing Italian citizens of prominence, the parade formed at the foot of Smithfield street and covered a route including many of the principal streets.

The parade was divided into two sections, in charge of Leonardo Bordonaro as grand marshal. Salvatore Sammicchio, a veteran who was decorated by King Humbert for gallantry in the Abyssinia campaign several years ago, commanded the second division.

At Turner hall, in Forbes street, after the parade, the excitable temperaments of the Italians were given full sway as the bands playing the stirring strains of the Italian national airs took the men back years ago, when they stood about the Quirinal of Rome or the governmental palaces in the provinces and shouted as they did today: "Viva L'Italia!"

Last night, at the reception, similar scenes were enacted as Attorney H. I. Riley, in English, and Catroll Gigliotti, in Italian, in complimentary language drew pictures of their hearers at their best. Hats were thrown high into the air and men and women alike cheered until their throats were hoarse. It was stated that at the next celebration at least 3,000 will take part, and preparations are already being made to carry it through as satisfactorily as the one of yesterday.

Daring Robbery on the Street.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—A daring hold-up in a crowd in the retail district occurred shortly before noon on State street, near Van Buren. Mrs. Upham, an aunt of Fred W. Upham, president of the board of review, was stopped on the street by six men, who robbed her of a diamond brooch and $60. The robbers escaped.

"He is as active and full of fire as a volcano." These words truly characterize the wonderful Creatore, who is at the New Exposition today.

DR. SHOWALTER QUITS CONTEST FOR CONGRESS

Butler Candidate Throws His Strength to Colonel Huff.

NOMINATION IS MADE UNANIMOUS

Long Conference Ends in the Selection of the Greensburg Man. Umpire Was on Hand, but His Services Were Not Needed.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Greensburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—On one of the slowest trains of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad the certificate of nomination of Col. George F. Huff as the Republican candidate of the Twenty-second congressional district left Greensburg this afternoon. The papers were in the hands of John N. Boucher, one of Col. Huff's closest friends, and the train's scheduled arrival in Harrisburg is just an hour before midnight—barely in time for Mr. Boucher to file the nomination papers with Secretary of the Commonwealth Griest, as prescribed by the rules governing the Republican state organization.

Col. Huff's nomination was only secured after a conference of five hours today. Many solutions to the muddle were proposed by Col. Huff, but it was just an hour before the train was due here that Showalter agreed to a plan of nomination. Dr. Showalter insisted that he was only empowered by his county committee to appoint three conferees to meet with a like number from this county. The rule adopted in this county at the meeting of the Republican committee provided for eight conferees to meet with only three from Butler, and while Col. Huff was endeavoring to reach an amicable settlement the most prominent members of the Westmoreland county bar were racking their brains to find some scheme to offset the diversity in the rules adopted by the committees of the two counties.

It was finally decided that Butler should go into the conference with three conferees and that the eight of Westmoreland should be entitled to only three votes. The two sets of conferees then began balloting. On the first, second and third ballots the vote was a tie. Just before the chairman of the conference called for the fourth ballot Dr. Showalter stated that he would not prolong the fight. He said that he had felt the pulse of the Republicans of the two counties and that they generally favored Col. Huff's candidacy. He instructed his conferees to vote for the Greensburg colonel, and the fourth ballot was unanimous for Col. Huff.

State Chairman Quay had anticipated a deadlock and had telegraphed Mathias Saxman of Latrobe to come to Greensburg and act as umpire. Mr. Saxman was unable to catch a train for the county seat and came overland, arriving at the convention just as the result of the fourth ballot had been announced.

The best of feeling prevailed after the conference. Dr. Showalter said that he felt satisfied that Col. Huff is the choice of the Republicans of the district.

Greensburg Democrats say the nomination is invalid and a meeting, it was stated here tonight, will be held in Pittsburgh tomorrow with the Butler Democrats to outline a plan to have the nomination declared illegal in the courts.

FADETTE'S ARE GONE; NOW COMES CREATORE.

New Musical Attraction at Exposition Begins Engagement Today—Said to Be a Wander.

Before two large audiences the Fadettes Woman's orchestra last night closed a fairly successful engagement at the Pittsburgh exposition.

A new musical attraction comes today. It is one that is said to have swept New York like a western cyclone. It is Creatore, who is said to be a very musical whirlwind, the most energetic and temperamental band leader perhaps the world has even seen, a man of terrible earnestness, a hypnotist in very truth, and withal a musician to the core. He is not a charlatan, not a cheater, but an artist in every sense of the word, of which the Exposition management satisfied itself by personal hearings before engaging him. His opening programs are as follows:

TO LIFT TRAINS OVER MOUNTAIN

Wabash Reported to Have a Plan for Raising Loaded Freight Cars.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 23.—A tremendous enterprise is contemplated by the Wabash system on the line of the West Virginia Central railroad. Plans have been drawn by which it is expected to lift whole trains loaded with coal or merchandise up the side of a slope of the Great Backbone mountains, in Tucker county, W. Va., by means of electric power, and by that method make a double-track road with an easy downgrade both ways.

At present the line westward, after leaving Cumberland, runs through Keyser, Piedmont and Fairffax, and thus into the Blackwater canyon. From Fairfax down on through this deep gorge the road descends a steep grade to Hendricks, and then makes a detour to Parsons, and thence on up a slight grade to Elkins.

At first, it is understood, it was planned to make a considerable detour around the mountain range so as to get an even grade. To overcome this, it is stated, it was decided to use the present gorge route for the west-bound tracks and build a unique east-bound track. It would be possible to have a double track on a fair grade from Elkins to Parsons, and there the trains would run on a platform. It is then proposed to have this entire platform and its freight, a full train, move by electric power up a tremendous grade to the highest elevation of the mountains. From that point an easy down-grade can be found on the other side all the way to Fairfax.

After leaving Elkins, it is said that the railroad officials have in view an extension from that point to what is known as the Coal & Coke railroad, along the Little Kanawha. This will open a rich territory through the heart of the bituminous coal region.

SEVEN MEN BURNED.

Miners Are Probably Fatally Injured by an Explosion Near Punxsutawney.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—An explosion of gas occurred at Helvetia mines, 14 miles east of here, in which seven men were so frightfully burned that they may die before morning. The explosion took place over two miles from the opening, and was the result of drilling into an immense pocket of gas.

Stewart Wilson, an employe, who was just outside of the main heading at the time of the explosion, describes it as being so violent as to put out all the mine lights for over half a mile. Henry Kaufman, a companion of Wilson, was thrown violently to the ground, as were all the men at work within the radius of half a mile. Five of the men were brought to the hospital here this afternoon.

BIG COAL DEAL ON AT INDIANA

Philadelphia Syndicate Wants 20,000 Acres of Land in the County.

JUDGE DEAN IS INTERESTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANA, PA., Sept. 23.—Ex-Judge John P. Blair and his son and partner, David Blair, have announced the intention of a Philadelphia syndicate, headed by P. A. B. Widener, William L. Elkins and W. G. Wagener, to secure 20,000 acres of coal land in this county. The Hon. John Dean of Hollidaysburg, a justice of the Pennsylvania supreme court, is representing the Philadelphia capitalists.

The land is along Blacklick and Yellow creeks and adjoins the land owned and operated by the Lackawanna Coal & Coke Company. John K. Miller, who optioned the lands at $25 an acre for the coal rights, has sold his options to Judge Dean. As soon as titles are examined full payment will be made. The first payment, consisting of $150,000, will be made on October 20.

F. H. Wall, manager of the Cresson & Clearfield Coal & Coke Company, interested the eastern men in Indiana county coal. He expects operations to begin in a few months, as the coal is needed in the eastern cities. The Beech Creek Coal Company has just purchased several thousand acres of land in the county.

W. D. Kelly of Philadelphia, who is president of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Company, and several engineers of his company are in Indiana today. In company with their local attorneys, Cunningham & Fisher, they examined some of the land they are purchasing in the north central part of this county.

"I will kill thee one hundred and fifty ways," said Touchstone in "As You Like It."

That is just what the average shoe tries to do to its wearer. I have always made a distinction between a shoe fitting the foot and the foot fitting the shoe. It is the shoe that must yield. Let the foot remain as Nature made it.

When I began designing my own shoes, I insisted that faultless-fitting must be to my shoe what the keystone is to the arch—the chief element of the whole. Faultless-fitting means a shoe that follows the lines of the foot, allowing free, natural action, fitting very closely under and about the instep and easy and flexible at the ball and toes, thus giving elasticity and better poise in walking.

It is the slipping forward of the foot at every step that makes walking so tiresome.

My shoe is THE ONLY SHOE that overcomes this difficulty. It holds the foot firmly at the waist and instep and supports the arch. It is a totally different construction from every other shoe made.

A "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has that subtle something in beauty and style that means individuality and lifts it above the commonplace. Sincerely yours,

Dorothy Dodd

Excepting a few special styles which cost an additional fifty cents, all

"Dorothy Dodd" Boots are $3.00

"Dorothy Dodd" Oxfords are $2.50

Dorothy Dodd TRADE MARK

We are pleased to announce that we have completed arrangements by which we are made exclusive agents in our city for the new "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe that is now causing so big a sensation all over the country.

"Dorothy Dodd" Shoes are remarkable for more than "distinctive beauty" and "faultless fit"—they are built upon specifications furnished by a woman who has made a study of woman's requirements. They are a woman's idea of "the perfect shoe."

All the knowledge and facilities of this house have been exerted with a view to testing the claims of the "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe. We find that it not only possesses "that subtle something that lifts it above the commonplace," but that it is so easily superior in all the points of beauty, of fitting qualities and of value that we give it our unqualified endorsement.

Our first "Dorothy Dodd" Opening Display will be made on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 25, 26 and 27.

Your attendance upon that occasion will afford us pleasure, and you the opportunity to see these much talked-of shoes.

$4,000 are to be distributed in prizes to wearers of "Dorothy Dodd" Shoes.

WILL ERECT BUILDINGS.

State Board Finds It Is Cheaper to Build Than Rent Temporary Quarters.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Because it is cheaper to build than to pay rent, the board of public buildings and grounds will lease no buildings in which to provide quarters for certain departments while the new capitol is building.

Two temporary wooden buildings will be erected in Capitol park to be occupied by those departments which now occupy the old executive building and the internal affairs buildings, both of which are to be torn down to make room for the capitol.

The buildings will be frame, two stories high, and will furnish all the room necessary for these departments until the state house is completed in January, 1906. One will be located near the state library, and will be near the entrance at Fourth and North streets, and will be 125x125 feet.

The board has selected a building in the vicinity of Capitol park in which to house certain departments, but when it came to fix the rent the owner demanded $6,000 annually, which is more than the cost of the building. A high rent also was demanded for another building in the same locality.

A., the fair-haired lad has had it in mind to ride further in 60 minutes than any other man ever hoped to do.

Robby will soon tie himself to Pittsburgh and, behind Candy, make the attempt. Walthour hopes to make 47 miles in the hour, thus lowering Jimmy Michael's French record of something over 46 miles a few days ago.

THE PRESIDENT FAVORS TARIFF COMMISSIONERS

Would Take the Question as Far as Possible Out of Politics.

OPPOSED TO FREQUENT POLICY CHANGES

He Thinks His Plan Would Be a Safeguard for Business Interests Against Partisan Acts, and Also Meet New Conditions.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 23.—A great crowd greeted the president when his train halted at the station in this city.

On the speaking platform were seated 150 persons, and the president shook hands with a few of these before leaving. Others tried to reach his hand as he climbed into his carriage. He overlooked the outstretched hands and stood in the carriage, raising his hat and bowing. The crowd seemed to resent this, for when Roosevelt was there during the last campaign he shook hands with every one who could get near enough.

Four of the local police force, mounted on spirited horses, were detailed to guard the president's carriage, and they had about all they could do to keep within range. Secret service men accompanying the president were in a low carriage next to the president's and kept a watchful eye on the crowd.

In his speech here, which was the most important of the day, the president opposed radical changes in tariff policy and expressed his preference for a tariff commission, which would take the question as near as possible out of politics. He said:

The Currency Question.

An honest currency is the strongest symbol and expression of honest business life. The business world must exist largely on credit, and currency, no matter with what purpose, is fraught with the suspicion of dishonesty, is fatal to its effects on business prosperity. Very ignorant and primitive communities are continually obliged to learn the elementary truth that the repudiation of debts is in the end ruinous to the debtors as a class; and when communities have moved somewhat higher in the scale of civilization, they also learn that anything in the nature of a debased currency works similar damage. A financial system of assured honesty is the first essential.

Another essential for any community is perseverance in the economic policy which for a course of years is found best suited to its peculiar needs. The question of combining such fixedness of economic policy as regards the tariff, while at the same time allowing for a necessary and proper readjustment of duties in particular schedules as such readjustment becomes a matter of pressing importance, is not an easy one.

It is, perhaps, too much to expect that from the discussion of such a question it would be possible wholly to eliminate political partisanship; yet those who believe, as we all must when we think seriously of the subject, that the proper aim of the party system is, after all, simply to subserve the public good, cannot but hope that where such partisanship, on a matter of this kind, conflicts with the public good it shall at least be minimized.

A Business Proposition.

What we really need in this country is to treat the tariff as a business proposition, and not from the standpoint of the temporary needs of any political party. It surely ought not to be necessary to dwell upon the extreme unwisdom, from a business standpoint, from the standpoint of national prosperity, of violent and radical changes amounting to the direct upsetting of tariff policies at intervals of every few years. A nation like ours can adjust its business after a fashion to any kind of a tariff; but neither our nation nor any other can stand the ruinous policy of readjusting its business to radical changes in the tariff at short intervals.

This is more true now than ever it was before; for owing to the immense extent and variety of our products, the tariff schedules of today carry rates of duty on more than 4,000 articles.

The problem, therefore, is to devise some plan by which these shifting needs can be recognized and the necessary readjustment of duties provided without forcing the entire business community, and, therefore, the entire nation, to submit to a violent surgical operation, the mere threat of which, and, still more, the accomplished fact of which, would probably paralyze for a considerable time all the industries of the country. Such radical action might very readily reproduce the conditions from which we suffered nine years ago, in 1893.

Problems for Inquiry.

It is on every account most earnestly to be hoped that this problem can be solved in some manner into which partisanship shall enter as a purely secondary consideration, if at all; that is, in some manner which shall provide for an earnest effort of non-partisan inquiry and action to secure any changes the need of which is indicated by the effect found to proceed from a given rate of duty on a given article; its effect, if any, as regards the creation of a substantial monopoly; its effect upon domestic prices, upon the revenue of the government, upon importations from abroad, upon home production and upon consumption. In other words, we need to devise some machinery by which, while persevering in the policy of a protective tariff, in which I think the nation as a whole has now generally acquiesced, we would be able to correct the irregularities and remove the incongruities produced by the changing conditions without destroying the whole structure.

Such machinery would permit us to continue our definitely settled tariff policy, while providing for the changes in duties upon particular schedules which must inevitably and necessarily take place from time to time as matters of legislative and administrative detail. This would secure the needed stability of economic policy which is a prime factor in our industrial success, while doing away with any tendency to fossilization. It would recognize the fact that as our needs shift it may be found advisable to alter rates and schedules, adapting them to the changed conditions and necessities of the whole people, and this would be in no wise incompatible with preserving the principle of protection, for belief in the wisdom of a protective tariff is no way inconsistent with frankly admitting the desirability of changing a set of schedules when from any cause such change is in the interests of the nation as a whole—and our tariff policy is designed to favor the interests of the nation as a whole and not those of any particular set of individuals, save as an incident to their building up of national well being.

Tariff Commission Favored.

There are two or three different methods by which it will be possible to provide such readjustment without any shock to the business world.

My personal preference would be for action which should be taken only after preliminary inquiry by and upon the findings of a body of experts of such high character and ability that they could be trusted to deal with the subject purely from the standpoint of our business and industrial needs; but, of course, congress would have to determine for itself the exact method to be followed. The executive body has at its command the means for gathering most of the necessary data and can act whenever it is the desire of congress that it should act.

The one consideration which must never be omitted in a tariff change, is the imperative need of preserving the American standard of living for the American workingman. The tariff rate must never fall below that which will protect the American workingman by allowing for the difference between the general labor cost here and abroad, so as at least to equalise the conditions arising from the difference in the standards of labor here and abroad—a difference which it should be our aim to foster, in so far as it represents the needs of better educated, better paid, better fed and better clothed workingmen of a higher class than any to be found in a foreign country. At all hazards, and no matter what else is sought for or accomplished by changes of the tariff, the American workingmen must be protected in his standard of wages—that is, in his standard of living—and must be secured fullest opportunity of employment.

Our laws, in no event, should afford advantage to foreign industries over American industries. They, in no event, should do less than equalize the difference between the conditions at home and abroad.

Rheumatism
of 33 years' standing
Cured

For 33 years I suffered from rheumatism until I became so crippled that I could hardly feed myself. Seven physicians had tried their skill in vain. My last doctors told me that it was useless for me to take more medicines, claiming there was no cure for me. My family also discouraged me from taking more medicines, but when my church paper endorsed Gloria Tonic, I resorted to that and the systematic use of this excellent specific completely cured me. G. Jacob Sexauer, Fountain City, Wis.

Gloria Tonic sells at all drug stores at $1.00 a package. Trial Box, also illustrated book on rheumatism containing many stippled drawings from actual life and which explains every form of Rheumatism known to science free by sending name and address to JOHN A. THE BURGESS' LECTURE CAUSED TEARS TO FLOW

"When you were here before you swore before God that you would not take another drink. I told you to get down upon your knees at your bedside and ask God to take away the appetite for liquor. If you had done this He would have answered your prayers, if asked in sincerity."

These were the words addressed to Robert B. Kelley of Swissvale avenue, Wilkinsburg, yesterday, by Burgess Horner before passing sentence for a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct and abusing his family. It was in evidence at the trial that he went home and because he could not find some beer he thought should be in the house, he knocked his wife down and abused other members of his family. Burgess Horner made one of the most extended and impressive temperance lectures ever heard in a court room, and some of the spectators shed tears. Kelley was fined $25 and costs. His fine was paid.

QUAY TO REST A WEEK AT HIS BEAVER HOME

Left Philadelphia Last Night and May Not Stop in Pittsburgh. His Birthday Coming.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 23.—Chairman Quay will spend a few days at his Beaver home. He left for the west tonight.

Secretary Andrews said he did not expect the senator to stop in Pittsburgh. He thought he would go direct to Beaver.

"Col. Quay expects to take a week's rest and celebrate his birthday," said Secretary Andrews tonight. "He probably will remain at Beaver until September 30, the anniversary of his birth, then return to Philadelphia and get down to business. His family will join him at home Friday morning. Judge Pennypacker speaks at the Beaver county fair Thursday afternoon and Col Quay expects to be present."

A CHILD'S GRATITUDE.

Mrs. Mary A. Black of Sulphur Grove, O., relates, that after her little boy was relieved from his sufferings he expressed his appreciation of what had been done for him by stating that "When he grew up to be a man, he would work for Mr. Pretzinger, who made the catarrh balm which cured him."

Mrs. Black writes: "My little boy, 12 years old, was so badly afflicted with catarrh that his nose and throat were so swollen that he almost strangled, and his breathing was so difficult and loud that no one could sleep in the same room with him. I was advised to try Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm for him. I commenced using it in the morning and by evening could see great relief, and in one week's time was cured. Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm has my most grateful thanks for what it did for my boy, who says that when he grows to be a man he will work for Mr. Pretzinger."

Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm acts like magic in curing children.

For a two-cent stamp Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O., will send a free sample of this valuable remedy. It is also for sale by druggists or mailed for 50 cents for full-size jars.

What Can Be Done.

A summary of results attained by the crusade against vice inaugurated by Superintendent of Police McAleese is interesting. It proves that it is possible to have a clean, orderly city at all times. What has been accomplished during a few weeks of pre-election effort can be done much better by a persistent purpose to keep down crime. In the districts where vice flourished most shamelessly a few weeks ago there is now an air of quiet and respectability.

Supt. McAleese is entitled to credit for what he has done. It is an addition to the good record he made some years ago. But he will not be given all the praise he may earn until he has completed the reform so well begun, or until he has shown both the intent and ability to maintain the better conditions when important elections are not pending. Final encomiums await proof that the closing of the speakeasies and disorderly houses is not a mere spasm of virtue designed for political effect.

If the crusade was begun for campaign purposes Recorder Brown will find it a dangerous precedent. A demonstration has been given of how vice can be suppressed when the police bureau is in earnest. The good people of Pittsburgh will never rest supine under any other conditions. Vice syndicates are intolerable, and it will be insisted they shall never again be permitted to control the police administration of Pittsburgh. They never will after the machine that is responsible for them has been ousted from power.

Henderson and the Presidency.

Former Congressman J. Hamilton Lewis has not pressed his views as to the reasons for Speaker Henderson's refusal of a renomination for congress, but neither has he withdrawn them. He has simply pulled the hole in after him and let it go at that. In a long interview at Omaha on Friday he declared Henderson's action to be due to a determination to contest the presidential nomination with Roosevelt. Mr. Lewis did not pause to reflect that Gen. Henderson was born in Scotland, and that persons born in Scotland are not natural born citizens of the United States, as the national Constitution requires Gen. Henderson to be. Gen. Henderson, however, did not overlook the point, for he referred to it in one of his statements following his reasons for withdrawal. The general may do many things or he may do few, but he will not contest the presidential nomination with Roosevelt or anyone. He is not eligible.

Park Lands for School Uses.

Mrs. Schenley's consent is necessary to the devotion of Schenley park lands to other than park purposes. This is made clear in the opinion of City Solicitor Carnahan. Inasmuch as the purpose for which it is proposed to take park lands is to provide a site for the technological school, it is not anticipated that Mrs. Schenley will withhold her consent. There is, however, the city solicitor points out, "a remote contingency" that the courts might sustain a protest which any citizen has a right to make, based on the assumption that land given for a park and accepted as such cannot be "diverted from its original use." This contingency is undoubtedly a very remote one—so remote that the whole matter virtually resolves itself into the one question of Mrs. Schenley's consent.

Concerning the bond money in hand for park purposes, there has been no serious thought in the minds of ordinarily well-informed persons that it can be directly diverted to any other purpose. But the city has the right to condemn and purchase lands for park uses, and it also has the right to dispose of such lands. Having purchased lands for parks, it may transfer them to educational or other institutions, unless the courts shall deny the right. It is in this way that it is proposed to provide for the extension of the Carnegie institute.

Boiled down, the opinion of the city solicitor means that Schenley park lands may be devoted to the uses of the technological school if Mrs. Schenley's consent be given. As Mrs. Schenley is willing to sell the Schenley farm property to the city for park or educational purposes only, and is as willing to sell for one purpose as for the other, her consent to the diversion of a portion of Schenley park to educational uses may be considered as already given.

A Happy Result.

Congressman Showalter has earned title to the good opinion of Republicans in his district by his final acquiescence in popular opinion. He fought stubbornly, as was his right, but in the critical moment listened to good counsel and the popular voice, thereby making it possible to file a regular certificate at Harrisburg for the Twenty-second district.

Col. George F. Huff, the nominee, will get the undivided support of the Republicans in his district, and that is equivalent to election. He will be welcomed back in congress, as he is welcomed back in the ranks of regular Republicans. Col. Huff, some years ago, followed the insurgent fetish along with Wanamaker and Flinn. By that course he well-nigh lost the great influence he had formerly exercised in Westmoreland councils. But he saw the error of his ways and turned his face back to regular Republicanism, sorry for his wandering. In this contest for the nomination he was heartily supported by John H. Brown, John B. Steel and the other leaders in his own county—a guarantee that he had fully repented and had come back to the fold.

His strength in Butler county was great, also, from the start, and this Dr. Showalter finally acknowledged. The Butler committee meant to act regularly and the Westmoreland committee acted in good faith. Under the circumstances Col. Huff deserves great credit for his attitude, having throughout the contest put the good of the party above his personal ambitions. He will be all the more popular for his unselfishness.

This carries on to a consideration of the muddle in the Twenty-fourth district. The example of the Twenty-second is worth noting, particularly by the Cunningham following, at this juncture. It is impossible to get a regular nomination for the Beaver man now. Mr. Acheson has filed his certificate. Will it not be better to let it stand than to endanger the district, even though some may feel that the situation should be different? This is no time for factional squabbles, but a time to face the general enemy with a solid front.

An Unpopular Course.

Gradually the situation in the anthracite region grows more threatening and expensive. Disorder covers a wider region; more troops are in demand and outrages grow more frequent. The strikers may imagine they can win that way, but they will surely lose. Every non-union man attacked is a step nearer to the entire defeat of the miners' cause.

Popular sympathy for the weak does not go to those who rely on the right of might. The starving miner and his family appeal to instincts of humanity, but the man with a bludgeon in his hand is an object to be abhorred, not pitied. It is no excuse that he needs work to get bread; the man he assaults may be in more dire circumstances, and it is his right to work when he is willing.

More rioting and more troops will sound the death knell of the strike. Long ago the public concluded the quarrel between miners and operators was selfish on both sides. Neither appears to take any thought of the poor who may freeze as a result of their game at war. It is time now to begin thinking about resumption of work, and if any are willing to mine the needed coal they are entitled to the fullest protection while doing it.

An Optimistic View.

Notwithstanding the unrest and outbreaks among the Chinese, an optimistic view of affairs in the Mongolian empire is taken by Bishop David Hastings Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church. In expressing his belief that there will not be another general uprising, he says that China's idols have been shattered, her ideals blasted, and that "the empire has been shot through and through with western ideas which to the natives seem to have an omnipotence all their own."

Bishop Moore's long experience in the land of the yellow men makes his opinion worthy of respectful consideration. It is feared, however, that his hopeful view is not justified by the conditions, for the disturbances in China indicate that the Boxer spirit is still very much alive. Idols may have been shattered and ideals blasted, but there remains the native hatred of "foreign devils," and to this flame of hatred is being added the fuel of onerous taxation to meet the indemnity payments to foreign nations. The latter of itself is sufficient to produce a chronic state of rebellion, and as this heavy taxation must go on for many years there is a discouraging outlook for peace in China. History may vindicate the belief of Bishop Moore, but at present there is reason for fearing that he is too optimistic.

Money in the Banks.

While the population of the United States increased 21 per cent in the decade from 1890 to 1900, in the last 10 years the bank deposits of the people of this country increased 100 per cent. We are growing rapidly in population, but we are growing much more rapidly in wealth. From a statistical report fresh from the comptroller of the currency it appears that the money deposited in the banks of the United States has reached the amazing aggregate of eight and a half billion dollars. This total includes in national banks, savings banks, state banks, trust companies and those private banks which still make a report to the comptroller. As these reports have not been obligatory since the tax on deposits in private banks was removed, it is believed that only about one-fourth of these institutions make report to Washington.

The steps by which bank deposits have steadily increased are extremely interesting. In 1878, for example, the total was $1,878,434,270. Since then there has been a steady advance, but the increase has been much more rapid in the last four years than at any previous time. The deposits in national banks increased from $500,000,000 in 1865, to $1,111,000,000 in 1885, and to $3,111,000,000 in 1902.

The people of the United States are entitled to be especially proud of the savings banks statistics. It is well known, of course, that the institutions calling themselves savings banks by no means hold all the savings of the people. Many uncommercial depositors make use of other banking institutions. Yet deposits in savings banks reached the large aggregate of $2,597,094,580 in the year 1901. Records of these institutions go back to 1830, when total deposits aggregated $7,000,000. The increase from that figure to one 371 times as large in 72 years is eloquent of increased population and expanded prosperity.

President Is All Right—

President Roosevelt gave an exhibition of remarkable fortitude yesterday that will challenge universal admiration. When he knew the abcess in his knee would have to be operated upon he simply changed the order of his speeches so that he might complete his message to the American people as nearly as possible in the way he had intended from the first. Then he went to the hospital, bore the pain incident to the operation and started for Washington wholly cheerful and in a state of general health that assures his physicians he will make a rapid recovery.

Announcement yesterday that a surgical operation was to be performed naturally caused widespread apprehension. When the details became known the feeling of fear changed wholly to one of sympathy with the man who is deprived of the royal sport he had planned at the end of the western tour. There is no cause for misgivings. The abcess in the knee formed as a result of a deep bruise suffered in the trolley car accident at Pittsfield, Mass. Its most malignant aspect was the possible stiffening of the joint and that has probably been averted. Mr. Roosevelt is a young man of active habits and nervous, sanguine temperament, a combination highly favorable to withstanding more serious surgical operations than that upon his knee.

An Unhappy Family.

Affairs appear to be going from bad to worse in the royal family of Spain. For a time it was the unfilial conduct of young King Alfonso that made the queen mother unhappy, but now a new cloud of discord is looming above the domestic horizon. Love is the principal factor in the latest complications, the Infanta Maria Theresa having set her heart on Prince Jenaro Borbon, a midshipman in the Spanish navy, while her mother champions the wooing of an Austrian archduke. The infanta refuses to give up her middy, her mother says she must, and the outcome can only be conjectured.

To aggravate the situation, so far as the queen mother is concerned, a South American beauty has fallen in love with Alfonso, and the young king manifests a disposition to reciprocate. To this the royal mamma most decidedly objects, and she has requested the beauty's father to keep her away from Alfonso. Spanish love is fierce when it is crossed, and it is no wonder that the queen mother is having an unhappy time of it in her attempt to thwart the wishes of her son and daughter. While it might seem that the easiest way out of the trouble would be to allow the youngsters to marry as they choose, it is likely that as mother-in-law the queen regent would continue to have troubles of her own.

It is said that the new papal delegate for the Philippines will take to Manila a new scheme for the settlement of the religious troubles. As the new scheme does not include the recall of the friars, it will hardly meet the views of the Filipinos as Gov. Taft understands them.

The prophets who announced that President Roosevelt would advocate tariff revision on his western tour can now revise their forecasts.

The Reason Is Out.

From the Washington Post.

Eureka! The real reason for Speaker Henderson's withdrawal has been found at last. It isn't fear of defeat, nor pique, nor menace of an attack upon his personal character. It's his stub leg.

Representative Henry R. Gibson of Tennessee has made the discovery. "Speaker Henderson," says Mr. Gibson, "lost a leg in the civil war, and there are times when the stub worries him greatly and gives him much pain. It causes him to be irritable, although by nature he is a man of amiable disposition. His leg gave him a great deal of trouble and pain in the last session of congress, and considerably disturbed his equanimity, and I am inclined to believe that this fact has caused him too quickly to resent the efforts of some Republicans in his district to control his opinions and actions."

A Sensible Pastor.

From the New York Commercial.

Pastor Pence of Detroit, who had President Roosevelt in his congregation last Sunday, had the good sense to leave the "trusts" and politics and the president himself severely alone in his sermon. There are eastern dominies who might profitably take pattern from this westerner's sense of the proprieties.

HORRID MURDERS FOOD OF GOSSIPS

Would Rather Dissect Something Cheerful, but Accept What They Can Get.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Sept. 23.

New York has more than an ordinary share of gruesome sensations. William Hooper Young, who confesses to complicity in the murder of Mrs. Pulitzer, arrived from Connecticut this morning and his confessions have been set before the public in full. At the same time, Louis Distrow, charged with killing Dimple Lawrence at Good Ground some months ago, is under examination by the grand jury. These dreadful matters, together with the state convention at Saratoga, give New Yorkers so much to talk about that they feel as if they have a bigger supply of gossip than has fallen to them for many weeks. Every indication is that the Pulitzer murder case will be more interesting to those that enjoy horrid details than anything the criminal courts have yielded in a decade. Murders are not subjects of chat in the joyous parts of this town, as a rule. Most of the loungers in hotel lobbies and about the white way of upper Broadway like to talk about cheerful things and do not draw murder into their chat. In the case of the Pulitzer slaying, however, the deed was done in the heart of the hotel and theater district, and it has a personal interest for many of the men who spend their evenings in the gay quarter above Madison square. After all, it matters little what the sensation of the hour may be, so long as it is a sensation. It is not the fault of the gossips if the topic of the day is unpleasant. They would rather discuss the last play, the latest move in the stock market or the most recent big winning on the race track. It happens this time that it is a murder filling the public thoughts. What can the loungers do but take up the murder and make the best of it?

A Bright Day at Last.

New York had its first fine day in nearly a week. It drizzled yesterday and for many days before, while mud in the roadways was something appalling. This has been an ideal late summer day. The sun has shone continually, and the breeze has been active enough to temper what might have been extreme heat. The old city never looked brighter and prettier than it did this afternoon.

Season Too Busy for the Rialto.

The Rialto is becoming positively lonesome. So many actors and managers have taken to "the road," while so many others are busy in the theaters of this city, that there are few idlers along Broadway whose appearance bespeaks them theatrical folk. The season has opened well all over the country, according to the reports that come to New York, and most of the thousands of amusement workers that a month ago thronged that part of Broadway familiarly known as "the alley," are playing every night and the usual matinees. But it does make a big difference in the appearance of the Rialto.

More Room on Trains.

One of the signs of the end of the summer outing season is the falling off in the number of passengers on the suburban trains and trolleys. In July and August trains are all crowded, particularly on Saturday and Sunday. Now there is no crowding for a seat in any of the trains which go out through the country to points 30, 40 or 50 miles away. Holiday-makers find more pleasure in the city, attending theaters, museums and other places of recreation, than in going into the mountains or to the seashore. New York is considered at its best in the fall and spring, and summer resorts get only a certain percentage of metropolitan residents. The rush of passengers and baggage has materially lessened in the past few days, for the simple reason that most of the summer holiday-makers are home. As is their custom, they all came home pretty well together, and now the business of the railroads has returned to its ordinary volume. Indications are that this will be a great season for New York socially as well as commercially and industrially.

Fire Chief Croker Suspended.

Edward F. Croker, chief of the New York fire department, who is respected so much by his fellow-chiefs throughout the country, is still kept off duty by order of Commissioner Sturgis. Croker does not know why he has been suspended, but he will know soon. Formal charges against him will be announced tomorrow, it is said, and then, in the words of a veteran fireman this evening, "he will know what he's up against." So far, he says he does not know why he has been suspended.

Gotham Boys Whistle Gazette March.

John S. Duss and his band are playing "The Pittsburgh Gazette March" every evening this week at St. Nicholas garden. The piece has caught the fancy of the town and is one of the most popular melodies of the season. Boys whistle it in the streets, and it will soon find its way to the hand-organs. Duss will wind up his season on Sunday night at Madison Square garden, although he will come back toward the end of October after his engagement at the Duquesne garden, Pittsburgh.

Devery Studying State Politics.

Excitement over the Republican convention at Saratoga overshadowed "Big Bill" today. Very little was heard of Devery or his movements in the Ninth district, and probably he did not do or say anything of consequence. That the proceedings of the Republican state convention are deeply interesting to him, no one doubts. Devery has never had anything to do with state politics before, and he wants to learn the game; so he is keeping a steady gaze on the modus operandi of Platt and his lieutenants this week, that he may learn as much about it as possible. Then, when he goes to his own convention, he will be able to come forth as a man to the manner born. Devery has not confided this to anyone, but it is not difficult to surmise why he is watching Saratoga so intently. Besides, he has had a hard fight for weeks and has earned a little quiet and rest now, such as he can enjoy looking from outside at the turmoil of a real live state convention.

A Pittsburgher's Opera Company.

W. H. Fullwood of Pittsburgh, who has obtained control of the Wilbur Opera Company for a term of years, will open with the reorganized and rejuvenated organization at Port Jervis, N. Y., next Tuesday. Thence he will go to Jamestown, N. Y., for three nights and then scurry across the country to Jackson, Mich. The company has been strengthened by the addition of several well-known singers, while the chorus is twice its original size. John S. Fullwood, who is in advance, left New York today for the first stand.

Compliment for a Bishop Coadjutor.

The Rev. Charles T. Olmstead, D. D., vicar of St. Agnes Episcopal chapel, Trinity parish, one of the fashionable places of worship of this city, who was recently made bishop coadjutor of central New York, will have a pleasant experience tomorrow evening. His congregation has subscribed for several handsome gifts, and they will be presented to him then at a social reception. Nearly $1,000 was subscribed by his congregation. The articles purchased are all peculiarly useful to a bishop. They consist of two sets of bishop's robes, with a traveling case in which to carry them; a silk cassock, pectoral cross of gold set with amethysts, gold chain for cross, and an episcopal ring containing an amethyst, with the arms of the diocese cut on it. St. Agnes chapel is well-known to visiting Pittsburghers, who have been attracted to it by the excellence of the choir as well as by the preaching of Dr. Olmstead. He is regarded as one of the ablest pulpit orators in the metropolis.

Famous Singers in a Club.

One of the social organizations that is becoming known for the pleasantness of its reunions, is the Harlem Occidental club. Many singers of national fame are members and the musical features of the gatherings have already become subject of comment. Eight of the Bostonians are members, and W. H. McDonald is a particularly active clubman. The club gave a "smoker" a few nights ago and Mr. McDonald sang "Brown October Ale" and other favorite numbers from "Robin Hood," with a fervor and dramatic effect that he has never exceeded on the regular stage. The Harlem Occidental is a good example of the artistic and musical clubs, the membership of which includes some of the brightest professionals in America, which are becoming yearly more numerous in gay Gotham.

Success of a Former Pittsburgher.

A Baltimore friend of mine told me today that the Rev. William Faulkner, at one time a Pittsburgher but now rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Baltimore, is meeting with flattering success. He is building up a large and enthusiastic congregation and is exceedingly popular. He is a good debt raiser, too, for he has cleared off practically all the monetary obligations of the church and parish buildings. Mr. Faulkner was at one time a practicing attorney in Pittsburgh and was one of the most promising members of the Allegheny county bar. When he entered the ministry his first charge was a parish in Philadelphia.

Transfer-Loopers Checked.

Trolley riding is cheap in Greater New York, and if one knows the ropes he can ride a long way into the country for very little money. One of the favorite trips of New Yorkers that had discovered the trick was to Yonkers and Mount Vernon and back to New York, all for 5 cents. The round trip covers more than 15 miles. Surely, a pretty good trip for a nickel. The journey at one rate of fare was accomplished by a judicious use of transfers on the Huckleberry electric system, and to get his round trip for one fare passengers "looped the loop," to use the common expression in that connection. Worse than this, from the company's point of view, some of the passengers "looped the loop" three times, that is, they made three round trips, getting a ride of nearly 50 miles for five cents. Now each passenger is obliged to tell the conductor his destination, and his ticket is taken up at the end of the journey. There is sorrow among the Huckleberry loop-the-loopers, but the railway company thinks it should be allowed to live, too.

Murphy Determined to Be Boss.

Charles F. Murphy, new leader of Tammany hall, announced today in short, sharp tones: "I will never be a dummy for Croker." As a matter of fact, Tammany needs something more than a dummy at the head of its affairs, which were never in a more precarious state than they are now. Murphy says he knows Richard Croker will not return to New York, and that is the general opinion; so probably "Sport," as Devery called him, is right when he says he will represent himself and not the old boss. One does not hear so much about Croker coming back nowadays, and the idea that he is still running New York from Wantage, is dying out.

A Shadow in Trouble.

One of the shady callings that flourish better in a big city like New York than anywhere else, is that of a "shadow." Private detectives are employed in many cases everywhere, but it is in this city that the persistent follower of a man or woman known as a "shadow" finds most to do. One of these gentry has got into trouble in Jersey City, and it may make him disgusted with his profession. He was following an insurance superintendent, professionally, and had a pretty full report ready for his employers, when the superintendent suddenly turned on him and charged him with watch stealing. The "shadow" was arrested and the watch was found in his pocket. He says the watch was "planted" in his pocket to get him into trouble. However, that may be, he has been held in bail for trial, and there may be some interesting disclosures as to the methods of New York "shadows" when the case gets into court.

Sportsman Protests Against Plunging.

James R. Keene today expressed his displeasure with owners of horses who plunge in their betting. All the reasons Mr. Keene gives are too numerous to be repeated here, but in brief, he regards such big winnings as a horse owner plunged may make as unsportsmanlike. Mr. Keene is vice chairman of the Jockey club at Gravesend, and he does not like to see his favorite sport made a mere vehicle of winning and losing money. Mr. Keene wound up a few pointed remarks in that direction with these words, which are worth remembering: "A race track is a place where one can meet broad-minded, generous-hearted sportsmen and gentlemen, with lots of bright sunshine and fresh air thrown in, and not a public mart for the promotion of commercialism."

The Lady Caller.

From the Philadelphia Press.

THINGS WORTH THINKING OVER

Opinions Gathered Here and There About World Movements.

From the Washington Post.

"People up in Manitoba are getting pretty well acquainted with their neighbors in the United States now," A. B. Hudson, an attorney from Winnipeg, Canada, said last night at the Raleigh. "During the past year 40,000 people from the United States, chiefly from Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas, have moved to Manitoba. We no longer feel as though we were strangers to the States, for they are gradually moving our way. Investors from this country have discovered that Canadian lands are worth much more than the price they are selling for, and are gobbling up all desirable tracts. Land which sold for $5 a year ago cannot be had for less than $5 an acre now.

"The people in Canada feel that the tariffs of the United States are very unjust and hope to see changes in the laws which will make it possible for the provinces to carry on trade with the States on more equal terms. Raw materials which the provinces are now sending to Europe and other parts of the world would come here if the country were a little more neighborly and would reduce the tariffs, which must eventually result in great loss to the United States.

"Previous to 1881 Winnipeg was a little fur-trading point. Now it is a city of 65,000. When it began to develop temporary frame buildings were thrown up hastily, but these have given way to substantial brick buildings, and the city is thoroughly up to date. It is surrounded by excellent farming land, much like the wheat lands of Minnesota and the Dakotas, and is the distributing point for the great northwest. The United States cannot afford to slight the great country located north of it. Great commercial possibilities exist there. The trade of the developing territory can be controlled by the people of the States if they only meet the Canadians half way."

NOVEL CAMPAIGN.

From The Outlook.

A most novel advertising campaign is being carried on in Paris. A French physician, impressed with the evil effects of alcohol upon the nation, has started out to combat intemperance by advertising. Upon billboards, in omnibuses, in the newspapers and magazines, on the armor of sandwich men, in railway stations and even on the backs of the fans used by hospital patients he displays in the largest of type the pithiest of warnings. "Alcohol is always a poison," "Beware of bitters!" "Drink makes consumptives," and so on, are some of the repetitions of this clever temperance advocate. He gathers statistics as to absinthe and insanity, wine drinking and various diseases, alcohol and crime, and prepares advertisements as deceitfully readable as those in our own papers which we take for genuine news and peruse eagerly till we come to somebody's soap at the end. The unequalled spectacle is thus presented of all Paris reading a temperance advertisement.

SCIENCE NOT APPRECIATED.

From the North China Herald.

An amusing story is told of an attempt of a French engineer to combine scientific investigations and railroad building in Korea. He went around with a tape line and measured the coolies' heads. "Under heaven and above earth," said they, "what can he mean by taking the size of our heads?" "Mean?" said the others, "he's after medicine, don't you know that?" Later on there was a skull found that seemed to have no owner and the engineer sent it home to Paris. "There," said the coolies, "that's for medicine, too," and suspicions grew so pronounced that a fresh batch of workmen struck, saying they would not have their heads measured. "Then," said the Frenchman, "you shall not work under me." They went in a body to Yi Tongik, lord high executioner of Korea, and presented their case. "By all laws of the ancients," said Yi, "this man must be dismissed. He is employed to build a railroad and has no authority whatever to go around preparing his devilish concoctions." Work stopped, and there was long tug of war. It was explained that it was for scientific purposes that the heads were measured. "Scientific purposes; what kind of medicine is that?" asked Yi. "No more money for the road while this man is in and I hold the strings." So the Seoul-Eulju railway has stopped.

COMMERCIAL HONOR IN ORIENT.

From the Washington Post.

"Etiquette is the religion of Japan. No people in the world are as polite as the Japanese," said H. H. Hutchinson of Philadelphia at the Arlington. "As a nation the Japanese are more cleanly than any other people. In nearly every way they are superior to the Chinese, but they lack the Chinese conscience. They do not have religious training which instills into them the doctrine of commercial honor. London and New York merchants sell many Chinese merchants goods on credit, but they have learned by bitter experience that the Japanese merchants frequently fail to pay their debts.

"Few European dealers care to open any accounts in Japan. When there were flurries in the value of silver some years ago many of the merchants who deal with Oriental firms had all the Japanese experience they care to buy. The Japanese is good on promising, and he is very polite on all occasions, but the less cultured Chinaman has a sense of honor which counts for much more than good manners in the commercial world. I don't know that the Chinaman deserves great credit for his integrity. Merchants have told me that the men of the Flowery Kingdom are not honest because they want to be, but because they are afraid to be otherwise. They are so religious that they bank on the future."

Congressman Dalzell for Speaker.

From the Scranton Truth.

The withdrawal of Speaker Henderson will precipitate a very spirited contest for the speakership of the next national house of representatives at Washington. Pennsylvania has an excellent candidate for the place in Congressman Dalzell of Pittsburgh. Mr. Dalzell is a man of fine ability and possesses the parliamentary experience to fill the place with undoubted distinction.

PERSONALS.

"The diamond expert trade is the biggest in the history of the world," said B. F. Allen, a diamond man from New York. "We have now 200 cutters from Amsterdam, and between 150 and 200 pounds of stones are being cut here annually. Some of the best stones that come to this country are sold here. Good stuff cannot be bought for less than $150 a carat by the trade, but carat stones are being sold by pawnbrokers for $120 a carat. Good stuff is becoming very scarce—that is, good stones of one carat. Australia is furnishing a number of nice stones, but they cannot be polished as the South African stones are, for the reason that they are too brittle. The South African pearl fishers have been sending in large numbers of stones ranging in price from $200 to $250 a string. They are of all colors, many of them very yellow. Ceylon and Siamese rubies are very scarce. There is no demand for them in the trade. Pittsburgh is one of the centers for diamonds, and more were sold here in the past 10 months than in any other center in the United States."

The Rev. Coleman E. Byran, Ph. D., has been called to the rectorship of St. James' Protestant Episcopal church, Sixteenth street and Penn avenue, and will enter upon his duties on the first Sunday in October. He has united with the vestry in the request that Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead will institute him into the rectorship and the service has been set for Thursday evening, October 2, at 8 o'clock. The clergy of the city and church people generally will be invited to be present. Dr. Byran has spent a number of years in Buffalo, N. Y., and for three years has been connected with St. Paul's church of that city.

Capt. S. S. Brown went to the blue grass regions to look over his racing colts for next year. R. D. Scandrett went to St. Louis last night.

Good Record for Health.

From the New York Herald.

Prosecution, conviction and fining of more than 50 dealers for adulterating the milk sold to New Yorkers is a very good fortnight's record for the health authorities. It is the sort of work the people want to see kept up until the last dishonest milkman has been punished, and the heavier the penalty the better.

STRIKE BOTHERS THE WATCH DOGS OF IMMIGRATION

Kept Busy Detecting and Deporting Laborers Coming Under Contract.

HOW LINES ARE DRAWN AT BARGE OFFICE.

Amount of Money Brought in by the Newcomer no Longer Made Much of a Test—Youth and Health the Main Factors.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.

The strike in the anthracite coal regions and the high wages paid the miners in the bituminous coal regions of Western Pennsylvania have resulted in an increase of immigrants of a class that would accept work in the mines, and the immigration officials have their hands full endeavoring to detect and deport those who are coming over under contract.

As has been published in these dispatches to The Gazette, several parties of alien contract laborers already have been stopped and deported, but the officials believe the failure of the laws to define clearly contract labor has resulted in many of that class getting into the country. In discussing that point today Assistant Secretary Taylor of the treasury department, who is in charge of immigration matters, said:

"I wish your immigration laws would define contract labor a little more definitely. You see, when an immigrant comes up for examination we ask him how much money he has. He hasn't much. We must try to ascertain if he is liable to become a public charge, and to escape that indictment he is inclined to assure us that he has the promise of an income; but if in doing this he goes far enough to say he has the definite offer of a job, which he came to accept, we have to exclude him as under contract. The middle course which he must sustain—prospects good but indefinite—is often rather embarrassing.

"The money the immigrant has with him we do not regard as of much consequence, whether it is $2 or $10, or $100. Unless he gets work, or has some prospect of work, he would soon become a public charge on any of the small amounts of capital that he is likely to bring in. It used to be a sort of a rule that each one must have $30; but we do not insist on that now. We should regard a young, robust man having only $5 as a good deal less likely to become a public charge than an elderly man, or one in poor health, with 20 times that amount. The state of the labor market now is such that any young, strong man can get employment.

"The laws ought to make it more clear what is meant by contract labor. The line that we draw in the absence of definite phraseology is something like this: If a man's friends, relatives or acquaintances send over for him to come to this country, saying he can get a job here, and he comes in pursuance of that indefinite arrangement, we do not exclude him; but if they write to him, 'We have a job for you,' at such a place on the railroads or in the mines at so much a day, the immigration office holds that if he comes by virtue of that invitation it is a contract and he cannot be admitted.

"Chinese complications, like the poor, are always with us. Probably more Chinese now try to get in over the Canadian line than over the Mexican. It is easier for them to land at Vancouver and to go eastward over the Canadian Pacific. The trouble on the Mexican line has been very much lessened since we stopped the Chinese from going through in transit. They used to come here in large numbers, to get through to Mexico, giving a bond which they canceled when they got into a Mexican port. Once in that country, many of them would take measures of getting back into the United States.

"The immigration service is now in excellent condition. The new commissioner is a hard worker and is enforcing the laws. The same is true of the man in New York. Things are running smoothly and the conduct of the service is efficient."

J. H. CUNNINGHAM WANTS ON BALLOT

BEAVER MAN CIRCULATING PETITION.

His Friends Are Making an Effort to Run Him as an Independent Candidate.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 23.—An effort is being made by the anti-Acheson faction in the Republican party in Beaver and Washington counties to place the name of J. H. Cunningham of Beaver on the official ballot for congress in the Twenty-fourth district comprising Washington, Beaver and Lawrence counties. By securing the required number of names on a petition it is expected to place Cunningham's name on the ballot as an independent candidate. It requires the signatures of 2 per cent of the voters in the county on the petition to secure the placing of a candidate's name on the ticket without regular nomination papers.

A petition was drawn up by Col. Ralph C. McConnell, a local attorney, under the supervision of the Cunningham faction in Beaver county and is being circulated. The petition first appeared last Saturday and several signatures were secured, but the utmost secrecy prevailed in regard to it and it was not generally known until today that it was in circulation.

Col. McConnell is being assisted in circulating this petition by M. R. Allen and other prominent anti-Acheson Republicans. They predict that they will have no trouble in securing the required number of signatures on the petition. Col. McConnell in speaking of the petition today said:

"It can easily be proved that Acheson's nomination is irregular, and the case is a similar one to the Huff-Showalter contest in the Twenty-second district. Congressman Acheson occupies the same position in the Twenty-fourth district that Congressman Huff did in the Twenty-second. Acheson received the indorsement of Washington and Lawrence counties, but Beaver county made no returns and Acheson has no more right to claim the nomination than Cunningham.

"The nomination of Acheson was irregular because the choice had to be ratified by the Washington county Republican convention, and this was never done."

Mr. Acheson said today that his nomination was perfectly regular. He stated that his nomination was ratified by the Washington county Republican convention and produced a resolution to that effect which was passed at the convention in June. Congressman Acheson claims that his nomination was not made in the same manner as that of Congressman Huff.

PRESBYTERY HONORS DR. REID'S MEMORY

Special Exercises Held for Pastor Who Missed Roll Call for First Time in Fifty Years.

At the meeting of the Monongahela Presbytery yesterday in the Mt. Lebanon church, a tribute was paid to the memory of the Rev. W. J. Reid, D. D., who for the first time in nearly half a century failed to respond to call of the roll. The Presbytery set aside an hour for devotional exercises in honor of the deceased brother.

This service was followed by the ordination of J. Howard Boyd, the son of the pastor of the church, who is under appointment to go to Egypt as a missionary. The Dr. J. K. McClurken, preached the ordination sermon, and the Rev. J. M. Wallace made the prayer. A paper on Sabbath observance from the Pittsburgh Presbytery, signed by the J. J. Graham and J. H. Sherrard was presented for consideration, and was discussed at length. All forms of Sabbath desecration were scored. A recommendation to the board of church extension for a loan of $2,000 to the Clairton mission was passed. The mission was organized into a church with 25 charter members. The Larimer avenue mission, with 138 members, under charge of the Sixth church, was given its independence and starts out on a self-supporting basis. The Sixth church donated the mission property.

The request of the McKees Rocks mission to be allowed to organize into a regular church was granted. The financial statement for the year was read by the Rev. M. M. Patterson, treasurer. The total assessment of the church for benevolent purposes for the year was $36,217. Of this amount $9,567 has been paid at the end of the first months.

A committee composed of Dr. David Barclay, D. D., and the Rev. R. M. Russell was appointed to draw up resolutions of sympathy and respect on the death of the Rev. Dr. Reid. These resolutions will be read at the funeral services today.

Society

THE state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Pennsylvania will be held in Bellefonte October 8-10. The program was received yesterday by Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, regent of the Pittsburgh chapter. Pittsburgh will have a prominent place: Mrs. James R. Mellon, vice-president-general for Pennsylvania in the national society, is to speak and Mrs. Ammon, as treasurer of the Julia Hogg testimonial scholarship, will make a report and will take part in the discussion on subjects presented by the chapter regents.

The program indicates both business and social features, the presence of Mrs. Charles Fairbanks, the president-general of the national society, being the occasion for several social functions, prominent among them being the reception by the Bellefonte chapter on Wednesday evening, in the armory, and the large reception which ex-Gov. Daniel H. Hastings and Mrs. Hastings will give in honor of Mrs. Fairbanks on Thursday evening.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Mrs. D. D. Mitchell, regent of the Bellefonte chapter, and the response will be made by the state regent, Miss Frazier of Lancaster. Mrs. James R. Mellon, as chairman of the committee having charge of the Julia K. Hogg testimonial scholarship, and Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, treasurer, will make reports concerning the scholarship, which consists of the interest on $1,000 annually awarded to the best essay on certain topics of revolutionary history, the writers to be students in colleges for women in this state. On Thursday morning the chapter regents throughout the state will give three-minute reports of the work of their chapters. An address will also be made by Mrs. Charles Fairbanks, the president-general. Thursday afternoon an open discussion will be conducted on subjects to be suggested by the different chapters. Mrs. James R. Mellon will make an address on the Memorial Continental Hall in Washington, D. C., for which the national society recently purchased a site near the Corcoran art gallery. The session on Friday morning will be devoted to any unfinished business of the conference.

The Pittsburgh chapter will hold its first meeting since last June on Friday, October 3, at the Twentieth Century club house in Duquesne way.

President's Day Observed.

The Travelers club yesterday observed President's Day in the assembly rooms of the Central Young Women's Christian association. It was an exceedingly enjoyable gathering and the club year was inaugurated under delightful auspices. Special guests were the presiding officers of other women's clubs and societies in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. Simple decorations of purple asters prevailed. Tea was served after music and a few addresses. The absence of the president, Mrs. James A. Israel, who is still in North Carolina recuperating after an illness, was felt, and her address of welcome was given by Mrs. James M. Drill, the first vice president, and yesterday's presiding officer. Mrs. William Macrum spoke in behalf of the retiring president, Mrs. James R. Darrah.

Miss Carrie Phillips told of the summer playground and vacation school at the Springfield school, the school which the members of the travelers club particularly interested themselves in. Miss Phillips' report was followed by a short and informal talk on the financial support of the summer playground work by the treasurer of the joint committee of women's clubs, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon. As the club elected to study Mexico, its history and civilization, this season, the course of study was opened yesterday by an interesting paper prepared and read by Mrs. Benjamin P. Veach on "The Physical Aspect of Mexico."

The musical program was a distinct feature of the day. The musicians who assisted, were Miss Katherine Vilsack, soprano; Miss Augusta Abel, pianist, and Victor Laurent, baritone. Tea was served by the members of the social committee, Mrs. Aaron B. West, Mrs. Alfred E. Clarke, Mrs. Julian Kennedy, Mrs. Harvey McKinney and Mrs. Joseph P. Reed.

The officers of the Travelers club this year are Mrs. James A. Israel, president; Mrs. James M. Drill and Mrs. J. Lewis Scodes, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. John Hamilton, recording secretary; Mrs. Harvey McKinney, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James C. Dick, treasurer. The first regular meeting of the club will be held Tuesday afternoon, October 14.

Estimated Funds Not Enough.

So very successful were the summer playgrounds and vacation schools the past season, going far ahead of the expectations of the women in charge, that the estimated amount of money, $7,000, which was asked for the support of this work early in the spring was not sufficient to cover the cost of maintaining them. The classes in the vacation schools, which were limited to 25, were found to contain often as many as 50 children. There was nothing to do but to turn away the children or engage more teachers. More teachers were secured and the interested and delighted children remained throughout the few weeks the schools were open. But as a result the treasury suffered. The women in charge of the financial end of the point committee decided not to call the public to its aid, but to raise the money through their own personal efforts. The greater part of the amount will be secured by the time the annual meeting of the joint committee is held, next Monday, and the rest will be assured. Next year it is expected that the amount of money asked will cover any such emergency as occurred this season.

A Teachers' Art Club.

A Teachers' Art club was organized last spring by the special teachers in the Pittsburgh and Allegheny schools and those in the surrounding towns and boroughs. But one meeting was held last spring, but the club will begin its fall season on Friday afternoon, meeting at the High school, Fifth avenue. Miss Lawton, supervisor of drawing at the Homestead schools, is chairman of the club which is quite an informal one. The program for the coming year has not yet been completed, but talks will be given by different members of the club on certain features of their work; talented visitors to the city will be asked to address the club and the interchange of ideas on subjects of common interest to the members, is expected to be of untold benefit to each one.

The Union Natural Gas Corporation, which recently consolidated six large gas-producing interests operating in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, at a stockholders' meeting yesterday voted all shares represented to increase the stock from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000. The new issue is to buy the Reserve Gas Company of West Virginia, the Connecting Gas Company, operating a pipe line from Lewis county, West Virginia, to Sugar Grove, O., and the gas property of T. N. Barnsdall, president of the Union Company, in Harrison and Lewis counties, West Virginia.

By these transactions the Union Company adds to its assets about 60,000 acres of valuable gas rights in West Virginia, besides the 16-inch pipe line into Ohio.

Today's League Games.

Boston at New York.

President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club left last night for New York to attend the conference of club owners to be held at National league headquarters in that city today. This meeting promises to be an important one, and it may be that peace measures with the American league may be adopted or at least talked over.

Previous to his departure President Dreyfuss made out and handed to Lefty Davis his notice of unconditional release by the Pittsburgh club. The usual 10-days' notice was waived by the club and Lefty was paid full time. In explanation of this action the Pirates' owner said that Davis had sufficiently recovered from the injury to his ankle to resume work, and as the Pittsburgh club no longer needed his services he was given his release in order that he may be able to do business with some other club. It is not likely that Lefty will play any more this season, but will go to Minneapolis and take a good, long rest, so as to be ready for next year. Davis should have no trouble in securing a place in some other team, as he is a first-class player.

Mr. Dreyfuss had nothing new to give out relative to his unsigned players, but from the way he talked it can be set down for a certainty that Tommy Leach will be found covering third base for the champions next season. During the afternoon Mr. Dreyfuss received a telegram from Manager Clarke's brother in Kansas, asking him to notify Fred that his sister was dying from the results of an operation, and he was wanted at her bedside at once. This unwelcome telegram was at once forwarded to Toronto, and the Pirates' leader left for his Kansas home last night.

Before starting for New York last night President Dreyfuss again announced that he was opposed to peace with the American league so long as Ban Johnson has anything to do with that organization. "I am opposed to Ban Johnson," said Mr. Dreyfuss, "because I have found him to be a bad man to do business with. I know him not to be a man of his word, and I also know that there is nothing he will stop at. Such a man as that is a positive injury to baseball, and it would be folly to think of peace so long as he is connected with the other organization. I don't know what business will be done in New York, but I do know that if I can prevent it there will be no peace measures with the American league."

THE CHAMPIONS BEAT TEAM OF CHAMPIONS

Eastern League Leaders Were Easy for the Two-Time National Leaders.

TORONTO, ONT., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Pittsburgh defeated Toronto here today in the easiest fashion by 7 to 3. The game was a benefit for the Eastern League champions, who received all the net profits, the directorate having allowed them the free use of the grounds. There was a large attendance, the paid attendance totaling 5,100.

The game started off well for the Torontos, who scored three runs in the first inning on singles by White and Miller and "Big Bill" Massey's home run on a corking drive to deep center. The crowd cheered lustily, thinking that Toronto would give their opponents a tight argument. After the first inning, however, Phillippe was invincible and he was backed up by the finest exhibition of team playing ever witnessed. His feat of striking out three men in the ninth inning was cheered to the echo.

Errors by Toft and a bad throw by Briggs scored Pittsburgh's first run. Toft was taken out of the game after the first inning and Brennan substituted. A base on balls, Sebring's triple, an out and Phelps' single gave Pittsburgh the tie runs in the seventh inning. In the eighth Burke's triple, singles by Leach and Wagner and three-baggers by Ritchey and Conroy scored four more runs for Pittsburgh.

Manager Clarke of Pittsburgh quit the game in the second inning, having received a telegram saying that his sister was very ill, and Burke took his place. The score:

SAYS YOUNG CORBETT WOULD HAVE WON

W. L. Crowley of Hartford, Who Managed the First Fight, Talks About the Battle.

W. L. Crowley, the man who brought Young Corbett to the front, is in the city and has been for three or four days. Mr. Crowley is on his way home to Hartford, Conn., from Louisville, and is very much disgusted over the failure to bring off the fight in the Falls city. He is likewise a few thousand out, as he was interested with Bob Gray in bringing off the bout.

Crowley is the man who brought off the battle in Hartford last Thanksgiving day, when Young Corbett defeated McGovern and won the championship. He also had the last match in hand, but failed to pull it off at Hartford, as he says owing to a weak-kneed mayor, who had promised him the permit in return for political services rendered during a very warm campaign in that Puritanical town.

"I guess there's nothing to it now but 'Frisco," said Mr. Crowley, "and I don't think the boys will get together before the holidays. It's a pity they were not allowed to meet in Louisville, as both were in good condition and there would have been a splendid battle. I know Terry had a lot of money back of him, but it was as good as 100 to 1 on Corbett. That boy has got Terry frightened to death and would have whipped him in jig time. They talked about Terry fighting him from a scientific standpoint, and if he had he would have got his head knocked off. The only way McGovern can fight is to lower his head and rush in like a wild bull, and let me tell you that Corbett is pretty good at that style himself.

"There has been a good deal of talk about Corbett's first victory over McGovern being a fluke, but it wasn't anything of the kind. I managed that fight and saw it and I tell you that it was the cleanest cut victory I ever looked at and the best man won. They call Terry a wonder, and so he is, but that little western boy is a wonder, too, and don't forget it."

CLEVER RECORD BY AN AMATEUR TEAM

WINDSOR PUT UP A FAST ARTICLE OF BALL.

Won the Championship of Allegheny and Made Fine Showing Against Semi-Professionals.

The Windsors have just closed the season with a record they may well feel proud of. Out of 54 games played they won 22, lost 11 and tied 1. All their defeats were by close scores and only once throughout the season did any team score against them in double figures, while no club shut them out.

The Rough Riders are undoubtedly the strongest nine in Western Pennsylvania, being also well able to hold level such avowed professional aggregations as Manor, Rochester, East Liverpool, Homestead and Wilmerding. Among other things the Windsor boys won clear and decisively the title of champions of Allegheny, defeating the Harvards, Centurys, Bellevues and Fairbanks and clearly outclassing anything on the North Side. The series of three games which the Windsors played at Exposition park with the Fairbanks will long be remembered by amateur fans.

The Little German band took the first contest 3 to 1, but nothing daunted, the Rough Riders prepared themselves diligently for the second battle, when they swatted the Germans 7 to 1, making a great triple play in the first inning which took all the starch out of their opponents. Then on September 1 the "Allegheny Champs" took the third game and the title with it by a score of 5 to 3, Healey twirling the last two winning battles.

The batting percentages of the Rough Riders is a very fair test, as they were constantly pitted against the best pitching in this section, such twirlers as Coleman, Maley, Stotler, McLane, Carson, Winters, Williams, Shaw, Loy, Kommer, Yeodt, etc., being handled without gloves. In the fielding department Hoban, the Windsors' star middle fielder, stands supreme, making but one error in 30 games. The one characteristic which more than anything else placed the Allegheny nine head and shoulders above the numerous clubs in this section was their team play. Every man on the Windsor team could be depended upon at any time to steal a base, drop down a bunt, or act instantly according to the signal passed him. Following are all the individual records for the season:

STAR POINTER'S MARK HAS BEEN REACHED AT LAST

WORLD'S RECORD HAS BEEN EQUALED BY DAN PATCH

Famous Pacer Went the Mile in 1:59¼ at Readville Yesterday.

MADE ON SAME TRACK AS OTHER RECORD.

Driver McHenry Nodded for the Word on First Trial—Runner Used as a Pacemaker—Great Ovation for Horse and Driver.

Readville, Mass., Sept. 23.—Dan Patch, the famous pacer, went against the world's record of 1:59¼, made by Star Pointer on the Readville track five years ago, this afternoon, and in a truly magnificent performance equalled the record.

Depending upon memory, it seemed to horsemen who saw Star Pointer's performance, that the conditions today were identical, and that meant as near perfect as a day could be.

Dan Patch was brought out for a warming-up mile, with a runner as pacemaker. Without an effort he went the distance in 2:13. Half an hour later the handsome black pacer came out for his trial against time.

As in the other mile, a runner was sent out ahead. No time was lost in scoring, and Miron McHenry nodded the first time down for the wire, and a hundred watches caught the start. The pacer had his stride from the word, and there was not a skip for the whole mile, his legs moving with perfect regularity. It was not until the third quarter that everyone felt convinced that the record was in danger. Up the stretch came the pacer, beating out the runner, and flashing under the wire a worthy mate for Star Pointer, his time being 1:59¼. Driver McHenry was wildly cheered and the crowd rushed to the rails to see the horse blanketed and led away.

Dan Patch's trial was made at the New England Breeders' association fall meeting, the program of which has been curtailed through wholesale withdrawal of horses from fall campaigning on tracks in this state.

The events today were the New England futurity for foals of 1899, the 2:11 trot and the 2:18 pace, and five exhibition miles against time. The futurity stake was easily taken by the filly Ecstatic, owned in Barton, Vt.

The trot went to Maj. Delmar, the winner of the $15,000 Massachusetts stake during the Grand circuit meet here. The trotter lost the first heat to Nutbearer through a bad break just after starting. In the other heats he was faster than the field, and in two heats beat his own record of 2:08½.

The pace went to Gold Brick, a gelding from Memphis. Tomorrow's card includes the 2:07 trot for a $10,000 purse and a trot for three-year-olds for a $7,000 purse. Summaries:

KILLED BY WATER CURE.

Death of a Filipino Priest to Be Probed by Root's Order.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—Secretary Root has started an investigation of the alleged killing of Father Augustine, a Filipino priest, through the application of the "water cure" at Bonate, near Iloilo. The charge is made in an open letter to President Roosevelt under date of Boston, September 6, signed by Charles Francis Adams, Carl Schurz, Edwin Burrett Smith and Herbert Welsh.

The killing is reported to have occurred in December, 1900, the water torture having been inflicted under orders of the commanding officer of a company of United States volunteers stationed at Bonate. The letter states that the officer in question has since been mustered out of the service, but is, or was recently, within the jurisdiction of the United States.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES SPOILED BY BAD WEATHER

The 2:14 Trot Was Finished and Won by Monte Carlo.

SURPRISE SPRUNG IN THE 2:15 PACE

First Heat Was Taken by Daisy Field, a Chicago Roadster, Driven by a Dentist—Close Fight for Place in 2:20 Trot.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 23.—Rain spoiled the afternoon's racing program of the grand circuit trots today after four heats had been finished. Threatening weather kept down the attendance.

The 2:14 trot from yesterday was finished, Monte Carlo, a prohibitive favorite, taking the two heats this afternoon with ease. Betting for first place was declared off in the 2:20 trot on account of Rythmic being considered a sure winner. The blind trotter took the one heat, but Geers, with the Prince of Orange in a close fought battle for place, beat out Dulce Cor in the stretch by a half length. Dulce Cor sold for even money. A surprise was sprung in the 2:15 pace when Daisy Field, with W. P. Geraline, a Chicago dentist, up, took the first heat from Ax, the favorite, at $25, with $17 for the field, the bay mare winning the first heat in 2:09. Until a few weeks ago she was a Chicago roadster. She sold for $100 to $25 for the field. Rain fell before the 2:06 pace was called. Summary:

FIRST PRACTICE GAME.

High Schol and Melvin Elevens Will Meet Today at High School Park.

This afternoon the Pittsburgh High school boys will start the local scholastic football season with a game with the Melvin A. C. at Friendship park. Coach Lalus will not pick a team till later in the season. For this game a number of changes will be made in every position and all the candidates given a thorough try-out.

The interest in football was never so high as it is now at High school. Some afternoons as many as 30 boys are in suits on the field. Among the new men to report is H. E. Orr, the third Orr trying for the team. He is one of the largest of the boys, and has had experience on the Carnegie H. S. and Hazelwood Athletic club teams. High school will have to develop a punter or be weak in that department. Nickel of basketball fame is practicing earnestly and may become an adept.

A few of the boys are on the injured list. Burgoyne received a badly strained knee that has kept him out of school a week. He will be in line before the season closes. McCandless is laid up with a stiff neck. Grier Orr had a hand badly burned on a trolley car which keeps him from practice.

$4.00 Excursion to Cleveland $4.00 Via Pittsburgh & Lake Erie R. R. September 26th and 27th.

Tickets valid on all trains, including the "flyers" and good returning until September 29. Extension of time until October 28 may be obtained by deposit of ticket and payment of fee of 50 cents.

John Harris, No. 52 South Twenty-third street, says: "I thought for a long time that it was rheumatism that caused the terrible pains in my back and shoulders. I suffered so that I could not sleep at night or work in the daytime. My urine was discolored and unnatural. I suffered almost constantly. Finally I became satisfied that my kidneys were out of order, and the uric acid in my blood was causing all the trouble. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Fleming's drug store, on Market street, and felt relief after the first few doses. It was a very short time until I was completely cured, and since then there has been no return of the pain at all. I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills enough."

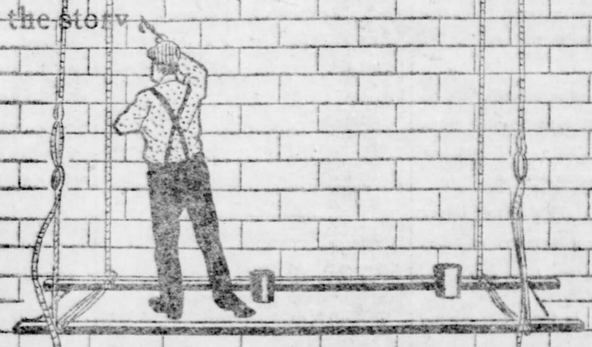
Here's the story.



LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY OF ALLEN SCHOOL

Commencement Exercises Are to Be Held Next Thursday Evening.

CLASS OF 31 PUPILS TO GRADUATE

A Program of Musical and Elocutionary Selections Will Be Provided—People of the Thirty-first Ward Interested.

The greatest event of the year in the calendar of the Allen public school in the Thirty-first ward will take place next Thursday night, when the annual commencement exercises of the graduating class of 1902 will be held. Every candidate for graduation last spring passed his examinations successfully and every pupil in the school will ratify the good luck of the graduates by a big jubilee in the school hall.

Prof. C. B. Cook, principal of the Allen school, and Miss Sara Cochran, assistant principal, were bent on sending out the largest class the school had ever known and mustered 31 pupils before the examining board. The young people were ambitious to make a good record and all received high percentages on their examination papers. Joseph Zwaska captured the first honors and Minnie Schober, a close rival, won second place.

PROF. C. B. COOK,
Principal of the Allen Public Schools.

Commencement day is an important event in the Thirty-first ward, where the patrons of the school take the most lively interest in educational affairs. The commencement program will include musical and elocutionary selections and will provide a rare entertainment for the little folk. The Rev. W. H. McMurray, pastor of the Knoxville United Presbyterian church, will deliver the address to the class. Addresses will be made by Dr. R. H. Holbrook, principal of the South Side high school, and by Samuel Andrews, superintendent of the city schools. The diplomas will be presented by H. J. Hartzell, president of the school board of the Thirty-first ward. David Timothy of Knoxville will see that the entertainment features are not overlooked and will give a number of humorous recitations. Miss Annie Saddler will contribute several piano solos and Miss Elizabeth M. Kroll will render vocal solos.

MISS SARAH L. COCHRAN,
Assistant Principal of the Allen Public Schools.

The majority of the graduates have entered high school and many will continue their preparation for life in the advanced institutions of learning, but none forget their alma mater, and the interest that is manifested in the public school commencement indicates how thoroughly they are imbued with the importance of the primary grade. For their class motto the graduates have selected the watchword "Finished, yet beginning." Their class flower is the rose, and red and white the colors.

The Allen school this year reached the top-notch enrollment, its students numbering 1,160. This is the greatest number of pupils that attend any single school building in the city, 26 rooms being used for recitation and study. In addition to the regular enrollment are 60 pupils in the kindergarten department, conducted by Miss Jessie O'Connell.

H. J. HARTZELL,
President of the Allen Sub-District School Board.

NEW EDITOR FOR A CHURCH PAPER

DEATH OF DR. REID MAKES A VACANCY.

The Rev. Dr. D. F. McGill Likely to Be Made Editor-in-Chief of the United Presbyterian.

The Rev. Dr. D. F. McGill, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church of Allegheny, who has been one of the associate editors of the United Presbyterian for the past six years, will in all probability be chosen editor-in-chief of that publication to succeed the Rev. Dr. William J. Reid, whose death occurred last Tuesday.

REV. DR. D. F. M'GILL.
He Will Probably Succeed to the Editorship of the United Presbyterian.

While no move has been made yet to choose a successor to the venerable Dr. Reid, the general sentiment of United Presbyterians hereabouts seems to be that Dr. McGill will be given the position if he will accept it. The editorship carries with it a handsome salary, and the position is a responsible one. During the illness of Dr. Reid Dr. McGill practically had charge of the literary end of the United Presbyterian, and his efforts as an editor have been crowned with success.

Besides the Rev. Dr. McGill the Rev. Dr. A. G. Wallace, another associate editor of the United Presbyterian, has been spoken of for the position of editor-in-chief. It is not thought probable, however, that Dr. Wallace will accept the position if it should be tendered him.

Dr. Wallace has been connected with the editorial staff of the United Presbyterian for the past 30 years, and has been one of Dr. Reid's most able assistants. He is at present the corresponding secretary of the board of church extension of the United Presbyterian church, and it is not thought he would resign that position.

Dr. McGill, since his entry into the ministry, has been looked upon as one of the champions of United Presbyterianism in the United States, and is an acknowledged leader of the faith. His fitness for the position has been amply demonstrated by his pastoral and literary work. Two years ago he refused to accept the presidency of Monmouth college at Monmouth, Ill., one of the leading colleges of the western states.

If appointed to the position Dr. McGill will be the third editor of the United Presbyterian. When The Preacher, of which the Rev. Dr. John T. Pressley was editor-in-chief, was merged into the United Presbyterian in 1848, the Rev. Dr. David R. Kerr became its editor and continued his duties until his death in 1887, when the Rev. Dr. Reid was given the position.

Dr. McGill was born near Claysville, Washington county, Pa. He was graduated from Washington and Jefferson college at Washington, Pa., with honors in 1881, ordained in the ministry in April, 1885, and was called to the pastorate of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, 17 years ago.

POLITICAL AX TO FALL ON HEAD OF HUMPHREYS

Recorder Brown Decides on Removal of Fire Department Chief.

HUMPHREYS REFUSES TO RESIGN

Failing to Drive Faithful Official Out by Making His Position Almost Unbearable, Brown and Leslie Will Fire Him.

Fire Chief Miles S. Humphreys is to be deposed from his position before the November election. All attempts to have him resign have proven futile. He has served notice on the city government that if it wants to get him off the pay roll he will have to be discharged. Recorder J. O. Brown has decided that for the good of the ticket he must go, as his influence on other pay roll men is pernicious, for he is known to favor the Citizens party, and his example is emboldening others to maintain their fealty to the Citizens party in the face of threats of removal.

At a recent meeting of ward chairmen, vice chairmen and secretaries, Recorder-Chairman Brown served notice than any man on the pay roll who was disloyal to the party would be removed. "If any ward chairman learns of a pay roll man in his ward who is leagued with the Citizens party, or is suspected of disloyalty to the county ticket, send me his name and he will be removed forthwith," said the recorder. As the result of that many men in minor positions have been removed and others are going daily. Fire Chief Humphreys is slated with the others and his removal is a matter of only a few days.

MILES S. HUMPHREYS,
Chief of the Pittsburgh Fire Department, Whose Decapitation Has Been Decided On By Recorder Brown.

As stated, all attempts to make Chief Humphreys resign have proved unsuccessful. Director A. H. Leslie has made his position as unpleasant as possible, but Humphreys has swallowed the discourtesies, being fully aware of the animus behind them. He had intimations that he would be permitted to resign, but he has paid no attention to them. "If they want me out," he said to a friend upon his return from New York, "they can put me out, and they know how to do it. But I will not resign. I have determined upon that. Six months ago I did contemplate resignation, but I soon saw that would please them too well, and I have determined not do it."

Director Leslie was given reason to believe a short time ago that his attempts to disgust the fire chief with his position had proven successful, and he was correct in his surmise; but he construed wrong as to result. It only clinched the determination of the fire chief to keep his place until the ax is used. Director Leslie was gleeful, and he confided his hope to others. Then the safety building press agent secured the publication of a story that Chief Humphreys would resign.

The reason for postponing the fall of the ax is found in the fear that public opinion will shake the safety palace when the act is discovered. Few people care to criticise Humphreys' administration of his office, and his discharge would be met with a storm of protest. But he is to go, and it is only a question of a few days. This information was secured yesterday from a source that proves its authenticity.

MOVE FOR NEW MASONIC TEMPLE ONCE MORE ON

Splendid Site in Oakland District Said to Be Under Option.

MORE ADEQUATE QUARTERS A NECESSITY

Some Definite Action Is Likely to Be Taken at the Golden Anniversary Meeting of the Pittsburgh Valley Scottish Riters.

Leading members in the upper circles of Free Masonry are reviving the effort, which has rested two years, to erect a splendid temple in Pittsburgh. Some of those interested are understood to have under option a valuable site in Forbes street almost opposite the Oakland police station. The option price is said to be $210,000. It is a property of sufficient size to admit of the erection of a Free Masons' hall, which will surpass that contemplated when the project was alive before.

The Gazette's authority explains it is necessary, for the present, to keep the exact site a secret. The ground is understood to be either a part or contiguous to the 11-acre Bouquet street site that was proposed for the Carnegie school of technology.

Action When Scottish Riters Meet.

Several leading Masons say the matter has not yet taken tangible shape. They say, however, that a handsome and commodious new home for the Masons must be a reality in a short time.

At the 50th anniversary meeting of the Scottish Rite bodies, meeting in the valley of Pittsburgh, definite action is proposed. This meeting will be held in this city November 11-15, and about 2,000 Scottish Rite Masons will be present. The new move for a temple is made mostly on the part of 32d degree Masons, although all lodges and Masonic bodies will be asked to participate.

The plans outlined by The Gazett's informant contemplate a structure which will rank high among the best of other cities. A building to cost at least $500,000 is proposed. The building is to contain, among other apartments, a dining hall which will seat 3,000 people.

Cost May Reach $1,000,000.

The last active project to build a new temple provided for an expenditure for ground and building of between $600,000 and $700,000. The new one may cost nearly $1,000,000. The property now occupied as Free Masons' hall, in lower Fifth avenue, is estimated to be worth $750,000. It has a frontage of over 60 feet and is regarded as too valuable to hold for the purpose, besides being inadequate for all the Masonic work done in Pittsburgh.

This Fifth avenue building is owned by the Masonic Fund society, composed of individual members and the several lodges and bodies, and will be sold if the new enterprise is carried out. The entire matter now hinges, it is said, on a membership approval of the purchase under the Oakland option.

James I. Buchanan, past commander-in-chief of the Scottish Rite Masons of this district and chairman of the executive committee on the new Free Masons' hall, said last night that he knew of no option having been taken, although the project may take shape at the coming golden anniversary. He said that something must be done soon to provide an adequate hall. The other members of this executive committee are James W. Brown, George R. Shidle, Henry W. Dunlap, Joseph G. Morris, William McConway and Reese Lindsey.

Other leading Masons who could be seen were unanimous in the declaration that a new temple must be built.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER.

He Cured Himself of Nervous Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man with large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another. I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends often advised me to try a well known proprietary medicine. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store and took two or three tablets each meal and occasionally a tablet between meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were going to cure completely and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the tablets contained and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin (government test), malt diastase and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach.

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a factitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

BEEF COMBINE HITCH.

A Sensational Drop in Swift Stock Started by a Report of a Delay in the Inventory.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—A sensational break of eight points in the stock of Swift & Co. was the feature on the local exchange.

The decline, which took the stock as low as 135, was the result of a general understanding that the inventory of the plants of the prospective combine, which rumor had it was set for next Saturday, had been indefinitely postponed.

Cure before cost, of course; but, besides being a wonderful curative for Throat and Lung diseases, Dr. Jayne's Expectorant is about the least expensive remedy, it takes so little of it.

SEEKING TO GET CONTROL

Henry Arnold & Company, real estate and insurance dealers at No. 1730 Fifth avenue, head a syndicate which seeks to purchase control in the Fifth Avenue bank. The capital stock of the bank is $100,000 and the par value of the shares is $50. It is said that $80 a share is being offered.

H. H. Niemann, president of the bank, said yesterday that the directors had taken no action in the matter, and he doubts that anything like a control can be secured by the new syndicate. The bank directors have been informally discussing plans to increase the capital stock of the bank, but Mr. Niemann said that no definite action has been taken, although it may be soon.

At a meeting of directors of the Monongahela National bank yesterday, not all were present, and the proposition to increase the capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000 was deferred till all members of the directorate may be present.

ONLY THE WEAK BULLS OBLIGED TO SELL STOCK

Cautious Lenders Force Many of the Pools to Close Out Holdings.

OUTLOOK STILL BRIGHT, SAYS MORGAN

Banks Determined to Make a Better Showing in Matter of Reserve Next Monday—Bridge Plant to Be Enormous.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 23.—Those who have talked with Mr. Morgan report that he is still a confident bull. The situation in general, he says, is sound and right, and as for money, the present stringency will correct itself if the street will but have a little patience.

Only a few days ago Mr. Morgan admonished his friends that, since higher interest rates are directly due to the country's marvelous prosperity, nobody should complain about paying, say 8 per cent, for money this autumn. One of Mr. Morgan's visitors called his attention to the selling of stocks then in progress and suggested that relief ought to be forthcoming on that account, but Mr. Morgan retorted that liquidation doesn't make money.

Mr. Morgan's abiding confidence had considerable moral effect in the market today. The nervous apprehension that almost invariably attends liquidation of the character seen today was strangely wanting, and the bulls find cheer in this.

Weak Bulls Forced to Unload.

The matter with the market today was that the over-extended speculative interests were peremptorily invited to scale down their commitments. The banks evidently are proceeding upon the theory that immediate monetary relief must be forthcoming from within Wall street. The calling of loans was on a larger scale today even than it was yesterday.

Weak bull pools were compelled to throw stocks overboard. It was selling in this particular character that was seen in such stocks at Chicago Great Western, Chesapeake & Ohio and other issues of that class. These were stocks in which bull cliques for one reason or another had to suspend operations with their turns at various points of incompletion. It was awkward for them to be caught holding the goods when the banks began to call loans. They had simply to lighten ship. The process is simple enough, but it hurts.

Some of the larger pools were similarly dealt with. The Atchison bull party is believed to have cast over a great deal of stocks. Loads were lightened in Baltimore & Ohio, Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville, Canadian Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific. Several of the strongest bull pools now present in the market sold their favorite stocks in a manner well calculated to create uneasiness among their followers.

The selling by the Gould pool in Missouri Pacific was, perhaps, the heaviest. Gould brokers also sold Manhattan, Wabash, Texas Pacific and other family specialties, but the decline of Missouri Pacific was most violent. More than 100,000 shares of the stock crossed the floor.

The effect of the enormous liquidation in today's market is likely to be felt tomorrow in an easier feeling all around. Professional traders expect money to be lower tomorrow. There also must be a large short interest in the market. The room crowd has been bearish for more than a fortnight.

Banks Getting Cautious.

There is no getting around the fact that the banks have adopted precautionary measures in the matter of extending loans. A large number of banking institutions today refused to loan money at any rate, giving as their reason that they were carrying a reserve below the limit required by law and that it was their desire to make a better showing this week. Lenders of money are scrutinizing collateral deposited as security for loans very carefully. In a number of cases today borrowers were requested to substitute high-class stocks for securities of a doubtful character.

New Plant Will Be Enormous.

The American Bridge Company is booking business from railroads for delivery as far ahead as the middle of 1904. The bulk of these contracts calls for structural steel to be used in bridges. Never before in the history of the structural steel trade has any company taken business for delivery so far ahead.

It is estimated on official authority that the American Bridge Company's output has increased between 15 and 20 per cent during the last year. Its new bar plant in the Pittsburgh district will be put in operation by the end of the year. In regard to this big Pittsburgh plant a representative of the combine said today it is impossible at this time to indicate the proportions it is likely to assume.

International Combine Not Needed.

A representative of the United States Steel Corporation is quoted as saying that at some time there may be a consolidation of the steel concerns of Great Britain, Germany and the United States, but that for such plans have not even been considered.

"At present," said he, "there is no need of such a consolidation, at least not as far as we are concerned. In a few years, if there should be hard times in the steel business, a combination of this sort may be advantageous, but not at present. Should the demand for steel fall off imports of steel would end and we could invade every market in the world."

BOILERS BEING DESTROYED.

Systematic Efforts Made to Ascertain What Is Causing Damage.

Capt. George H. Atkinson, the local government boiler inspector, has interested Capt. Samuel S. Brown, master of transportation for the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, in an analysis of Monongahela water. Fully a dozen towboats are tied up at Pittsburgh making repairs to boilers, made necessary by the acid in the water of the Monongahela eating away the rivets.

The conditions are said to be worse this year than ever before. It is charged that certain mill plate plants run chemicals into the stream, polluting it to such an extent that no boiler can escape damage. If the acid comes in contact with it.

Prof. Phillips of the Western university will not only make an analysis of the water, but he will analyze the steam taken from the boilers of a number of steamboats. An effort, it will be made, will be made to counteract the ravages of the acid. The manufacturers along the river have as much trouble from this growing evil, it is said, as the boat owners.

News of the Rivers.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks at the Davis Island dam indicated a stage of 1.8 feet, and the river was stationary.

The sand dredgeboat Pittsburgh was inspected yesterday by the government inspectors.

The dredges W. C. Jutte and the Southern are both dredging out Clinton landing in the Monongahela river.

Capt. John F. Klein says that his excursion boats handled 200,000 people during the past year. No accidents of any kind occurred.

Capt. John Moore of Beaver was in Pittsburgh yesterday. He expects to leave soon for the Hawaiian islands, where he has a nephew.

The Charlotte Boeckler is on the ways at Carondelet receiving a new battery of boilers, new cylinder timbers and general repairs to her hull.

The towboat Joseph B. Williams has 1,500 horse-power, while the J. B. Finley has 1,950 horse-power. The Williams has handled the largest coal tows.

The competition between the Lee line and Capt. Sims of the Lotus Sims for Memphis and St. Louis business is fast becoming a rate war between the rival lines.

Capt. Neptune Wishart will be married early next month and will go to Washington, Philadelphia and New York on his wedding tour. The captain ordered his wedding suit yesterday.

The Beaver is on her way up the Mississippi with a tow of 2,000,000 feet of lumber. The Beaver was built a number of years ago under the superintendence of Capt. Joseph McDonald, recently deceased.

The big towboat Sprague will leave Cairo tomorrow for New Orleans, where she will go on the docks. The boat may get an additional set of hog chains. Capt. August Jutte left yesterday morning for Cairo, by rail, to join the boat and make the trip south.

The steamer Kanawha, which has been chartered by the independent Morgantown line to make a few trips in place of the Elizabeth, was to have left last night for the headwaters of the Monongahela. The wharfboat was well filled late yesterday with freight.

The towboat John C. Fisher, which was condemned by the local steamboat inspectors, has been given another short lease of life. The inspectors have agreed to allow the owners to run her for 30 days longer. In the meantime work on the new boat on which the Fisher's machinery will be placed will be rushed as rapidly as it is possible to do.

The towboat Carrie V. has been purchased by Capt. Fred Bennett. She was bought from the Cairo, Memphis and Southern Railroad and Transportation Company, which is the name under which the towing business of the Chicago Mill and Lumber Company is conducted.

Capt. John F. Klein was awarded the contract for freighting 3,500 tons of iron to be used in the Wabash bridge from the American Bridge Company's works at McKees Rocks. He purchased six new flats from David Neel in order to enable him to carry out his contract.

Jefferson Smoot, of the Monongahela and Western Dredging Company, has gone to the wilds of Michigan to hunt for big game. He appears to have been well rewarded, for yesterday he telegraphed that he had bagged several deer. He will visit other hunting stations before he returns from his vacation.

SHOT DEAD IN STREET.

West Virginia Man Is Killed and Citizens Are Hunting for His Assailant.

CAMDEN-ON-GAULEY, W. VA., Sept. 23.—(Special.)——Last night Estry Bell and Alexander Weese met upon the street in front of the Dyer hotel. A few words were heard to pass between the men, when Bell struck Weese with a blackjack, felling him. When Weese attempted to rise Bell, it is alleged, pulled his revolver and, pressing the muzzle close to the top of Weese's head, fired. Weese died within an hour.

Bell started to run and was soon in the woods on the nearby mountains. The deputy sheriff formed a posse and immediately started after Bell, they returned at daybreak this morning, finding no trace of him.

This morning several posses of citizens formed and are scouring the mountains for Bell.

The Money Stringency Forces Heavy Selling in Wall Street

GENERAL LIST SHOWS DECLINE OF TWO POINTS

Heavy Calls of Loans Causes Speculators to Scramble to Make Good.

CASH IS SHIPPED WEST AND SOUTH

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 23.—The stock market was subjected to drastic liquidation today and speculators of all classes from the smallest to the greatest threw over their holdings with increasing signs of disorder. There were a few pauses in the activity of the selling, but whenever the bears commenced to bid for stocks in the fear that they were over-extending their short account, it proved so easy to get stocks that the offering down of prices was constantly renewed, with a constant uncovering of fresh stop-loss orders which tumbled stocks upon the market in heavy volume. The closing was furiously active and with prices still pursuing a rapidly downward course. The growing difficulty of borrowing money to carry speculative holdings of stocks on margin was the root of the trouble. Yesterday's moderate calling of loans by the banks, instead of relieving the trouble, seemed to aggravate it. The disturbance of the money market was due in some part to the operation of the forces of relief which were through new and unaccustomed channels. Thus the high rate for money resulting from yesterday's loan contraction offered an inviting opportunity for all who had available deposits in the banks to draw out their deposits and replace them on loan in the stock market.

Forces Heavy Loan Calls.

This was done by many classes of depositors, all the way from those with private accounts up to the large banks of the interior, which keep many millions on deposit with New York banks. This process, if carried on in a thoroughly systematic and orderly manner, would constitute simply a transfer of book accounts. No increase or decrease of the supply of loanable funds is involved, but the deposits withdrawn from the banks to be loaned had to be replaced by heavy calling of loans put out by the banks. This shifting process was largely responsible for the continual flurries in money. The sentiment in the street was decidedly upset by the conviction that no relief is immediately available for the stringent condition of the supply of money. The earlier contribution of nearly a million dollars to the market through the subtreasury operations was so nearly wiped out by yesterday's customs collections, and today there was deposited at the sub-treasury $250,000 for telegraphic transfer to Chicago and $170,000 for New Orleans. While part of the withdrawals of deposits by interior banks were re-loaned here, other sums were shipped away by express to meet the crop requirements.

Drop in New York Exchange.

The drop in New York exchange at Chicago from par to 20c discount reflected the increasing pressure upon this center for funds, notwithstanding the higher level of money rates. It was noticeable also that the sterling exchange rate failed to yield to any material extent. The jump in the prices of wheat and cotton has checked the export buying and the making of exchange. Private discount in London rose above the bank rate today, and it is generally expected that the bank rate will be advanced to 4 per cent on Thursday, and such other obstacles interposed to the movement of gold to New York as are possible. The amount of commissions exacted by brokers for time loans are growing and there are complaints of scarcity in other departments of the money market, owing to the withdrawals to take advantage of the high ruling rate for call loans. The considerable shrinkage today in the prices of securities involved calls for additional collateral on loans, which was a further factor in the pressure in the money market.

Confidence Given Set Back.

The confidence in values which has been so persistently maintained received a decided set-back in face of this combination of circumstances. At least one powerful speculative combination liquidated accounts to the extent of between 50,000 and 100,000 shares of various stocks, mostly largely of Missouri Pacific. One of the most important mainstays of the recent market was thus withdrawn. An opening lift of 2 points in St. Paul was the only important attempt to contest the declining tendency from the start. Yesterday's prices for the most important stocks are from 2 to over 3 points lower than they were last night. The downward impulse to stocks caused some additional weight to be given to the reports of disorders in the coal region, unfavorable crop reports, both for grain and cotton, and the strained relations between Great Britain and Venezuela, but the money situation overwhelmed all other considerations.

Bonds active and weak. Total par value, $5,545,000. United States 2s coupon and the 3s advanced ¼ per cent, and the 2s registered declined ½ per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day, 1,082,000 shares.

Calling in of loans forces speculators to dump stocks on market, and a general decline of from 2 to 3 points is recorded in leaders.

Depositors are drawing money from banks to loan at high rates on market.

Money is withdrawn from subtreasury for shipment to Chicago and New Orleans.

St. Paul was forced up 2 points at opening, the only apparent attempt to break the decline.

Bond sales reach par value of $5,545,000.

The Local Stocks Worked Lower on Considerable Liquidation

WINDOW GLASS SLUMPED AT THE WIND UP

Heavy Selling Orders Broke the Price Over $1 in a Few Moments.

NEW HIGH RECORDS ARE MADE BY BANKS

Money Situation Cause of the Weakness — Electric Seconds, Steel Shares and the Coal Issues All Declined.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was largely dominated by the one in the east, and it was entirely controlled by the monetary situation. The result was in the east heavy liquidation and general losses, while at home there was also liquidation and a preponderance of declines, ranging from ⅛ to $5 a share. In fact, outside of the banking groups only two issues that sold closed with advances, and one of these was on a sale of but two shares of stock. The banking issues were somewhat less active and not so uniformly bullish and strong, though three did reach new high price records in the sales and one in the quotations. These were: Allegheny Trust, which sold six shares at $135, a gain of $17 between sales; Enterprise National of Allegheny, which sold 10 shares at $130, a gain of $5, and State bank at $70, a gain of 2 shares, an advance of $4. Columbia National bank also advanced $4 to $420 bid. Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust opened firmer and $5 higher at $250, but declined steadily to $244, a loss for the day of $1. Pittsburgh Trust sold a small lot at $715, a loss of $5, and Real Estate Trust went steadily down from $310 at the opening to $307 50 at the close, a loss of $4 50 for the day. North American Savings Company rallied $1 to $122 on a small sale. In the quotations Keystone bank advanced 50c to $388 bid.

In the industrials Window Glass common, the coalers and the steel shares were the features. Window Glass gained its prominence near the closing moments of the exchange, when heavy selling orders broke the price to 60¼, a loss of 1¼ for the day. Over 1,200 shares changed hands and at the wind-up the principal seller offered 500 more at 60¾ and bid 60 for 1,000. Regular lots were 60⅝ bid. The preferred sold two shares at 90¾, a gain of ¼, and regular lots offered at 91. Pittsburgh Coal common was the most active issue of the day, opening at 36¾ and closing at 30 on sales of nearly 1,800 shares. The net loss for the day was ⅝. The stock was heavy at the wind-up. The preferred was also rather heavy and on sales of about 400 shares declined ½ to 90¾. River Coal common was dull but steady., while the preferred was very quiet and ½ lower at 40¾. Westinghouse Electric seconds and Westinghouse Airbrake were a shade more active than they have been for a day or two, but closed weak and low, the Electrics losing $1 at 111, and Airbrake a similar amount at 183. The steel issues were weak and rather dull, closing firm ⅛ to 1¾ points lower. Fire Proofing was quiet and unchanged. Brewing was dull. Monongahela Water was firmer and $1 higher at 42. Manufacturers Light and Heat was also firm and scored a new high record at 80, a gain of 1½. Peoples Natural Gas also reached a new high record at 103 bid, a gain of 52. Bonds were very dull but steady.

The object of the proposed change is to sell the new seats at not less than $10,000 each ,and to apply the proceeds to the Mechanics National bank building in Fourth avenue as a stock exchange building. Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I think they will be lower.

I didn't hear so much bull talk today in the room.

The market is one of the sort that forces weak people to put their accounts in strong shape.

The market will be erratic. Trade for quick turns. Buy Steel preferred. Generally speaking, instructions on all moderate declines, re-selling on bulges of a point or two. In other words, operate temporarily professionally. Chicago Union Tractions will sell very high presently, but the public will not be able to buy into and hold. The industrials, including sugar, will recover sharply since the short interest is simply being nursed.—Josephs.

There may be some special movement in St. Paul, but in general the bull campaign has been apparently for control. It looks as if St. Paul would soon sell considerably higher, although it is apt to have some pretty sharp reactions after such a big rise as it has had.

The strain of such a money market as we are having is bound to break any stock market in time. No bull market can be looked for until the money situation clears up and there does not appear to be any way to do that except by the trade except liquidation in Wall street.

The market ought to have a rally after this decline, but unless some means are devised for increasing the bank reserves it will be a sale on all strength.

Belonged to John W. Herron and Occupied by Kelly & Jones Co.

BUSINESS LOTS BEYOND THE HUMP SOLD

Old James B. Hill Homestead in Penn Avenue Is Bought for $18,000—Fine Houses for Wilkins Place.

The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company has sold for John W. Herron a property on the south side of First avenue, just above Wood street, for $40,000. It is situated at the corner of an alley and measures 48x80 feet, making the rate of sale $833 a front foot. The lot is improved with a three-story brick building occupied by the Kelly & Jones Company as a warehouse. The name of the purchaser is withheld, but it is understood he is a business man who took the property for an investment and contemplates no changes at present. During the last month there has been a noticeable increase in activity in this portion of the city, this being the third deal of importance closed within that time. Another deal for a large block of property in the same ward is well under way and negotiations are reported to be in progress for a valuable business property on the west side of Wood street, not far from First avenue.

Two Business Lots Sold.

Property beyond "the hump" continues to attract the attention of shrewd buyers looking for business sites. The latest deal was made by Isaac Sachs, who sold for M. J. Cavanagh, the tailor, to I. Levy, two properties in the Fifth ward for $25,000. One of the properties is a lot 39x249 feet on the east side of Boston street, extending back to Beelan street. The other measures 55x249 feet at the corner of Fifth avenue and Boston street, adjoining the former property. The lots have on them three brick store and flat buildings and are considered a good bargain at the price.

Through the Real Estate Trust Company M. Glukoff has purchased the old Hill homestead on the north side of Penn avenue, just east of Twenty eighth street, for $18,000. The former owners were the heirs of James B. Hill, a lumber dealer. The property extends along Penn avenue 70.5 feet and back 130 feet to Mulberry alley, where it has a frontage of 112.5 feet. An old brick residence and stable constitute the improvements. The purchaser contemplates the erection of a three-story brick store and apartment building, one floor of which will be used as a public hall.

The manufacturing plant will be 70 feet long, with two wings 200 feet long. J. W. Crulkshank is taking bids on four brick flats in Wilkinsburg which will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Robert C. Hall has sold to Alfred M. Lee a number of properties in the Thirteenth ward, for $10,000. The properties are located in Herron avenue, Lyon, Camp, Anderson, Iowa and Cherokee streets. The total frontage is considerably over 500 feet. A part of the properties are improved and the remainder will be improved soon with a number of good dwelling houses.

John C. Neale has purchased from Severn P. Kerr a residence property in Thorne street, Sewickley, for $9,000. The lot measures 70x286 feet, on the south side of Thorne street, near Grant street, and has erected on it a 12-room frame house which the purchaser will occupy as a home. ATTORNEY HAD TROUBLE WITH JUDGE STOWE

BURGLAR CONVICTED BY EXCHANGES

Chain of Deals on a Watch Discloses Identity of the Real Thief—Woman Acquitted of Assaulting a Man.

Clayton Hill, Robert Hart and John Lammison, boys aged about 15, were on trial yesterday before Judge Stowe, charged with burglary. An interesting dialogue took place between Attorney M. R. Trauerman, who represented the defendants, and the court.

Mr. Trauerman said: "If it pleases the court, I ask for a severence in this case."

The court replied: "I cannot grant it."

"All right," said Mr. Trauerman; "if the court wants to be arbitrary about it."

"What's that?" interrupted the court, as he flushed.

Mr. Trauerman answered: "I have the right to ask for one."

"And I have a right to refuse," returned the judge, and the dialogue closed.

The boys were accused of stealing three dozen quarts and two dozen pints of whisky from the Pennsylvania freight station at East Pittsburgh. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty on the charge of burglary, but found Lammison and Hart guilty of receiving stolen goods.

Colored Burglar Convicted.

David Burton, colored, was convicted of burglary. His conviction was brought about by tracing a chain of exchanges of a gold watch, which was part of the property he was accused of stealing. The watch, with $21 in cash, was taken from the home of Steven Pezzonossi on June 21 by a midnight prowler, who escaped in a fusilade of pistol shots. Later the watch was located, but the possessor proved he was innocent of the theft by producing the man from whom he got it. The second man proved his innocense, as did a third, and the watch was traced finally to Burton. In his defense, in which he was supported by his wife, he attempted to continue the chain of exchanges by testifying he had obtained the watch from a man to whom he had lent a dollar, taking the watch as security. His wife testified that she had written the receipt which was given the stranger for his watch. The jury took but a few moments to come to a conclusion.

Lizzie Edkins was acquitted of two charges of assault and battery and the prosecutor, H. B. Smithson, was ordered to pay the costs. He charged her with hitting him in the face and knocking him down on August 7; also, of attacking him while he was in bed on July 25.

Many Minor Cases.

Louisa Lawson was acquitted of a misdemeanor and the costs placed on the prosecutor.

James Stanton pleaded guilty to the larceny of a pair of boots and $3, and was sentenced by Judge Collier to four months in the workhouse.

Charles Miller, who pleaded guilty to taking an overcoat from a friend in warm weather, was sentenced to four months in the workhouse.

Three others pleaded guilty, Robert Smith, pointing firearms, sentenced four months to workhouse; Charles Miller, carrying concealed weapons, sentenced to 15 days to workhouse; Ernest Kirkpatrick, misdemeanor, usual sentence.

The following cases were nolle prossed: John Sharp, assault and battery; Harry Hodges, misdemeanor; John Catch, felonious assault and battery. In the latter case the defendant was charged with biting and striking his brother; but a third brother was in the fight that occurred, and it is alleged he committed the assault.

Grand Jury Returns.

Aggravated assault and battery, William Magogney, Jacob Walker, Frank Walker, Mary Frupka; false pretense, Charles F. Hetzel; selling and furnishing liquors on Sunday, Gust Bairos; false pretense, Charles Hetzel; entry and detainer, Abraham Molowitz; larceny by bailee, John Regan; selling liquor without license, Gust Manas, Abelean Nefobolias, Maggie Gallagher alias Maggie Keppel, Minnie Myers; assault and battery, I. The following bills were ignored: Entering a building with intent to commit a felony, Albert Taylor, James Bnash; misdemeanor, Hester Hollis; unlawful assembly and assault, William Reed et al.; aggravated assault and battery, Harry Reed et al., Goldberg, Joseph, Bridget Joyce; assault and battery, Harry Reed et al., John Kolcum, Coleman Joyce, Joe Goldberg, John Kolcum; keeping a gambling house, being a common gambler, C. Speedy and A. Speedy; felony, Emma Schwab; larceny, Robert Herron; false pretense, George Gasper.

TO BREAK KAUFFELD WILL.

Hearing in Estate in Which Judge Hawkins Granted an Issue.

Judge Evans began a hearing in the contest over the will of Elias Kauffeld, a wealthy resident of the South Side, who died a few years ago, leaving only a little to his wife and son. An orphans' court Judge Cohen refused an issue, but was overruled by Judge Hawkins, who granted one.

The testimony heard yesterday was that taken in the other court. Witnesses were called to show that Kauffeld imagined there was a "yellow dog gang" after him; that he barred the doors, and that he thought some one was trying to poison him. Kauffeld, it is also charged, wrongfully denied the paternity of his son, Herrman, and the faithfulness of his wife. The case will be on for several days.
